CHIANG KAI-SHEK FREED

UNCONDITIONAL RELEASE STOPS WAR IN NORTH

CHINESE CITIES GO WILD WITH JOY AS NEWS SPREADS

Marshal's First Act Is To Recall Army From Shensi

ACCORDING TO A REUTER DESPATCH RECEIVED LAST NIGHT, MARSHAL CHIANG KAI-SHEK HAS BEEN RELEASED FROM SIANFU AND HAS ARRIVED AT LOYANG BY AEROPLANE. THE MARSHAL ARRIVED AT LOYANG AT 5.30 P.M. LAST NIGHT, ACCORDING TO A TELEPHONE MESSAGE FROM GENERAL HO YING-CHING, WAR MINISTER, TO MAYOR WU TEH-CHEN OF SHANGHAI, SAYS THE UNITED PRESS. AND A SUBSEQUENT DESPATCH FROM THE UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT AT LOYANG CONFIRMS THE MESSAGE. FROM THIS SOURCE IT IS LEARNED THAT MADAME CHIANG ACCOMPANIED THE MARSHAL, TOGETHER WITH MR. T. V. SOONG, HER BROTHER, AND MR. W. H. DONALD, THE MARSHAL'S ADVISER.

FOUR MILITARY PLANES ESCORTED MARSHAL CHIANG'S MACHINE FROM SIANFU TO LOYANG.

Officials are professedly unaware of the terms of Marshal Chiang's release or any other details. It is presumed that the Generalissimo and his party will proceed to Nanking to-day, the United Press continues. Shanghai and Nanking celebrated the leader's release with impromptu street parades.

Orders Troops Back

Shanghai, Dec. 26.
It is officially stated to-day that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has been released unconditionally. His first action on being freed was to order a cessation of hostilities in the north and the withdrawal of Government troops from Shensi. General Chiang Hsueh-liang explains that the revolt he led, with the detention of Marshal Chiang, his first tactical move, was due to a misunderstanding which has now been cleared up. He erroneously thought that Marshal Chiang intended to dismiss him and disband his troops and so he detained the Marshal in self-defence. Moreover, he believed Nanking had failed to pay his troops, but it transpired that the money had been misappropriated by one of his own subordinates, who has now been arrested.

Mere "Window Dressing"
It is noteworthy that Chang Hsueh-liang, in his statement, does not mention the political issues which he put forward as an excuse for his revolt originally, which confirms the view that his manifesto of December 12 was mere "window dressing." Nanking, Shanghai and other cities went wild with joy as news of the Marshal's release was flashed across the countryside. Huge crowds thronged the streets in Shanghai, blocking traffic, shouting, cheering, and setting off firecrackers, while aeroplanes circled over the city dropping coloured paper. Processions were formed and marched through the principal thoroughfares carrying banners with slogans reading: "Long live Chiang Kai-shek, 'Long live the Republic."

Troops Withdrawing
Government troops along the Lung-hai Railway are already withdrawing in pursuance of the Marshal's orders. Chiang's release occurred on the eve of the resumption of hostilities, as Government troops were taking up positions preparatory to a drive against Sianfu to-morrow. Some of them were posted along the Lung-hai Railway and were to press forward by this route and others were to attack from Kansu. News of the Marshal's release was received with profound relief in

Marshal Chiang Kai-shek

Chinese business circles, as a civil war might have proved disastrous to trade.

With Madame Chiang
Marshal Chiang, accompanied by Madame Chiang, Mr. T. V. Soong and his adviser, Mr. W. H. Donald, has flown to Loyang and has established his headquarters there.

Chang Hsueh-liang and other rebels in the intriguing circles of the political north-west, are now wondering what steps will be taken to clean up the state of affairs revealed by the revolt. Although Marshal Chiang has been released it is obvious that the revolt leaves many problems for the Government to solve, most notably that in connection with the Communist elements in Shensi and Kansu.

FATAL MOTOR SMASH

MRS. G. E. ANDERSON IS VICTIM

Christmas celebrations were marred for many in Hongkong by a fatal motor accident yesterday afternoon on the Castle Peak Road, near Tsun Wan. Mrs. Gertrude Ella Anderson, wife of Mr. John E. Anderson, of the Anderson Music Company, Ltd., was almost instantly killed. It appears that Mr. Anderson's car, which he was driving, was struck by an iron bar projecting from a lorry which he was passing while returning from a drive around the New Territories at about 4.15 p.m. The bar penetrated the hood of the motor and struck Mrs. Anderson, who was sitting in the back seat.

Mrs. M. W. Brennan and Mr. Anderson, occupying the front seats, received superficial injuries caused by splintered glass from the windshield. A few moments after the accident, Dr. Hope Gill, who was also returning to Kowloon, came upon the scene of the tragedy. He assisted in removing Mrs. Anderson from the car, only to find, shortly afterwards, that she was dead. A post mortem examination was made at Kowloon Hospital this morning. The driver of the lorry, it is alleged, disappeared after the accident, but was subsequently found. Mrs. Anderson, formerly Mrs. Marshall, of Yokohama, was 59 years of age. Only last March she was married to Mr. Anderson at the Kowloon Union Church. She leaves two daughters, Nadia and Clarice, both married and residing in Yokohama, and a son, Mr. Percy Marshall, who is in business in Tientsin.

For many years she was a resident of Hongkong, and was a partner with Mrs. M. W. Brennan, in the "Dolly Varden" shop. Her charming personality had won for her a host of friends. Mrs. Anderson was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Hongkong. The greatest sympathy will be felt for the bereaved husband and family. The funeral takes place this evening, passing the Monument at 5 p.m.

GIVES BIRTH TO DAUGHTER

The Duchess of Kent former Princess Marina of Greece, gave birth to a daughter just before noon on Christmas Day.

DAUGHTER BORN TO DUCHESS

ROYAL FAMILY'S CHRISTMAS FINE HOLIDAY WEATHER

London, Dec. 25.
A daughter was born to the Duke and Duchess of Kent at 11.20 a.m. to-day.

Mother and child are "doing excellently," physicians state. "This was the crowning happiness of the Royal Family's Christmas. Christmas Day in London was favoured by ideal weather, sunny overhead, dry under foot and the air pleasantly keen. There was a great influx of people last night and this morning for the seaside and country, while hotel accommodation at the favourite holiday centres was fully booked up.

On the other hand, thousands of folk poured into the metropolis to join their friends and participate in hotel festivities. The most interesting home news of the day was of the birth of the daughter to the Duchess of Kent, at her London residence, shortly before noon. The event was telephoned to the King and Queen, the Queen Mother and the Royal Family party at Sandringham.

XMAS ON A MUDBANK
The 470 passengers aboard the German liner Pretoria, en route to Capetown, spent Christmas Day on a mudbank at the entrance to Southampton Water.

The vessel is of 16,000 tons and on her maiden voyage from Hamburg. She had called at Southampton at 8 p.m. yesterday, and she grounded an hour later.

Attempts to refloat her have hitherto been unsuccessful.

BIG LONDON FIRE
A big Christmas Eve fire, which raged all night, destroyed the premises of Raphael Tuck and Company, well known Xmas card manufacturers, in London.—Reuter Special.

ROYAL FAMILY PARTY
London, Dec. 24.
The Royal Family party at Sandringham for Christmas will be completed to-day by the arrival of the (Continued on Page 14.)

HOME SOCCER RESULTS
A clear-cut victory over Preston, the champions, by Birmingham, placed Arsenal at the head of the first division football league table yesterday. This was one of the chief features of the Christmas Day programme of English League soccer matches. The complete results of yesterday's home soccer football will be found on Page 8.

EUROPE FEARS WARLIKE EVENT DURING HOLIDAY

BERLIN'S ACTIONS WATCHED WITH MUCH ANXIETY

London, Dec. 25.
Europe is most anxious to prevent a warlike event which will darken the Christmas season, but it is widely feared Germany may seize the opportunity to execute a coup d'etat in the Spanish civil war or in Czecho-Slovakia.

It is noteworthy that the Dawes' Reparation Bonds broke on the London Exchange on Wednesday to the lowest level of the year.

Meanwhile, in Paris there are reports which indicate that both Britain and France have indirectly given counsel to Herr Adolf Hitler to act with prudence.

Well-informed quarters in Berlin state that discussions of such prime importance are under way between the British, French and German Governments that Herr Hitler is remaining in Berlin instead of spending Christmas in Bavaria. It is indicated that the discussions concern a peace move, and not further turmoil, which indicates that Herr Fuhrer is possibly considering acceptance of a mutual guarantee treaty.

However, indications are that Germany is facing a food shortage and general economic difficulties, and there are reports that Germany is sending thousands of troops to Spain. These things heighten the general fear of crisis.

It is generally felt that Germany is so deeply committed to the Spanish Nationalists' cause that she must shortly commence to aid the rebels on a large scale or revise her policy. It is noteworthy that no graceful means of revision can be seen.—United Press.

FRENCH ACTION
Paris, Dec. 25.
France to-day was seeking international co-operation to prevent further German aid to the Spanish Fascists. A spokesman said: "France is willing to apply all measures, however severe, which the Non-Intervention Committee suggests to prevent further aggravation from foreign intervention in Spain."

France is not taking solitary action, it is pointed out, but is seeking the faster and most effective international control in order to prevent a European crisis.

It is believed Britain and France have advised Germany indirectly to take a prudent course in Spain.

ever, although it is indicated that a joint Anglo-French warning may be delivered, as delicately as possible, through Franco-German ambassadorial conversations.

The French position is believed to be strong. French leaders seem to be confident that Signor Benito Mussolini is long losing interest in backing German action in Spain.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies, without debate and unanimously, approved a Government measure lending Poland 405,000,000 francs to build state railways, and in addition to the 945,000,000 already advanced. This move is considered of the greatest potential importance in consolidating the return to solid ground in Franco-Polish diplomacy.

Rome, meanwhile, has assured France that she is willing to maintain the strictest neutrality towards Spain, abiding by any decisions of the London Non-Intervention Committee, providing other powers act similarly. Italy insists that Soviet assistance to the Loyalists must cease.—United Press.

POPE APPEALS FOR PEACE

Urges Fight To Finish Against Communism

Vatican City, Dec. 24.
His Holiness the Pope, in a worldwide broadcast from his bedside, deplored "the many great evils which have fallen like a scourge on humanity, civil society and the Church." He added that more than ever he felt near and present to all the Catholic world in spirit.

Pope Pius said against the will of God they had to contend with the malevolence of many misguided enemies. There still raged, with all its horror and hatred, the carnage and destruction of the civil war in Spain. It seemed that those evil forces of which he had spoken wished to make a supreme experiment of all the destructive forces scattered throughout the world which they commanded. There were signs and portents of a terrifying reality being prepared for Europe and the world.

The Pope declared that between those who pretended to be leading the defenders of order, against the subversion of civilization and against the spread of atheism and Communism he sorrowfully saw not a few being guided by false and fatal ideas in their choice of remedies and in appraisal of their adversaries. Referring to the year's events, the Pope appealed for the maintenance of peace where it reigns, and its re-establishment where it was but a memory. To this appeal he joined more fervently than ever his prayer to God for that "tranquillity of order wherein alone peace can consist, for the execution of that individual and collective justice without which no order is possible." His Holiness offered up a prayer for the good of the entire Church, particularly for Spain "now so troubled and for that very reason so dear to us."—Reuter.

GERMANS FLOCK TO SPAIN

20,000 FIGHTING WITH REBEL FORCES GREAT BRITAIN PROTESTS

Madrid, Dec. 24.
It is calculated that 20,000 German soldiers have disembarked in Spain since the last meeting of the League Council on December 12, according to a statement by General Mija, commander of the defence forces in Madrid.

These have been distributed at all fronts, particularly on the Madrid front, where there are believed to be six thousand. The General adds that Germans were clearly present in the recent fighting in the Boadilla sector, adding "so far we have not captured any Nazi prisoners; the German infantry attack in masses, as in the Great War, but the Government Command has been prepared for this. There are still very many Italians with the insurgents."—Reuter.

BRITISH PROTEST
London, Dec. 24.
Instructions have been sent by the British Government to the British Ambassadors in Berlin, Rome, Moscow and Lisbon, urging the respective Governments to co-operate in taking measures to discontinue the flow of volunteers to Spain.

It is understood that the French Government is taking similar steps in these four capitals. It is not expected, however, that these representations by Britain and France will be jointly made.—Reuter.

GOOD TRAVELLERS..

Fashion Prepares for any Weather

by MARY GRACE

A belted travel coat cut on double-breasted lines in green tweed lined with copper brown. The stitched double collar matches the new cuffs, belt and pockets.

The ample wrap of this loose check tweed coat provides extra warmth when motoring. Full sleeves are gathered into wind-proof wrist bands. Note the new buckle fastenings.

THE days of elastic-sided boots, thank goodness, are over. But they had their points—they kept grand-mother's feet dry.

We have their counterpart today in the attractive ankle-high booties, discovered first in America. They have waterproof exteriors fastening up the front with buttons, or a Lightning Fastener; cosy inside, as they are lined up with wool.

Warm, too, are the booties worn by the girl in the sketch.

Fashion seems determined to keep our feet dry, having a mind, I suppose, all those chills we catch through having the wrong footwear on at the wrong moment.

Besides the just-above-the-ankle type of boot, there are others that come well up the calf of the legs. If the latter are worn, the coat should just cover the top, as a gap between gives a very ugly line.

Oilskin or Taffeta

Then comes all those little vicissitudes that make life bearable on a wet day. The umbrella that folds up and slips into the top of your handbag, so that you don't suddenly stop and start with the mental query, "What did I do with my umbrella?"

I saw a gladsome sight the other afternoon coming towards me in the wet. A figure in bright scarlet oilskin, worn over a coat and skirt—rather startling, but a cheery sight in the November gloom.

Cheery, too, are the coloured oilskins, with hat and chubby umbrella to match. If you don't favour transparency, there is another fabric appearing to have a taffeta finish. In a spot design coat, complete with hat and umbrella, this makes a smart bad-weather outfit.

Winddammer oilskins for the country woman have a double-breasted front for extra protection.

THE TURKEY'S FAREWELL

Tasty Ways With The Left-Over

IN a few days' time the turkey usually looks a sorry sight, and if it was an extra large one it is sometimes a problem to know how to use it up. Although cold turkey is very good, it is not too appetising on a cold day.

FOR COLD FROSTY WEATHER

Curried turkey makes a very warming dish. Cut the meat from the turkey and cut it into small pieces, sprinkle with Bisto, break up the bones and gently stew them for several hours, then strain for stock.

Fry the meat in a little butter with a small chopped onion, a sliced apple and a dessertspoonful of curry powder. Roll a dozen chestnuts until soft, then chop them and add to the other ingredients. Add the stock and gently simmer.

TURKEY DORMERS

Mix together 1/2 lb. minced turkey, a little of the forcemeat, 4 oz. breadcrumbs, 4 oz. mashed potatoes, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a beaten egg. Form into flat cakes, brush over with beaten egg, sprinkle with breadcrumbs, then fry in hot fat until a golden brown. Drain well on soft paper and serve with a good brown gravy.

All these made-up dishes are improved by the addition of brown gravy. You know how to make it quickly—put a heaped teaspoonful of Bisto into a basin, mix thoroughly with half a pint of warm water, then bring to the boil in a saucepan, stirring all the time. Allow to boil for a few seconds and the gravy is ready.

ON TOAST

Mince or chop the turkey finely, season with pepper and salt and a little of the forcemeat. Melt a nut of butter in a pan, add the turkey and stir for a few minutes over a gentle heat. Add a few cooked green peas or two skinned tomatoes. Pour on rounds of buttered toast or fried bread.

NOURISHING SOUP

The carcass of the turkey need not be wasted; it makes a nourishing and delicious soup.

Break the turkey up and put the pieces into a pan and cover with water. Add an onion, carrot and turnip, and gently stew for three hours.

Meanwhile, cut a pound of shin of beef into dice, sprinkle with a dessertspoonful of Bisto, add a pint of cold water and simmer. Strain the turkey stock, add the beef liquid and serve with croutons of bread and a little chopped parsley.

COLD SUPPER SALAD

Take two cupfuls of diced turkey, add a pinch of salt, pepper and a few leaves of watercress, three tablespoonfuls of chopped celery, a few capers and some cooked green peas. Sprinkle with mayonnaise and arrange in a salad bowl. Rub

SCHOOLGIRL BEAUTY

HOWEVER much mother may protest that "she never worried about her face in her young days," her modern, lanky-legged schoolgirl daughter in her teens will still take what appears to be an excessive amount of interest in the cosmetic counter.

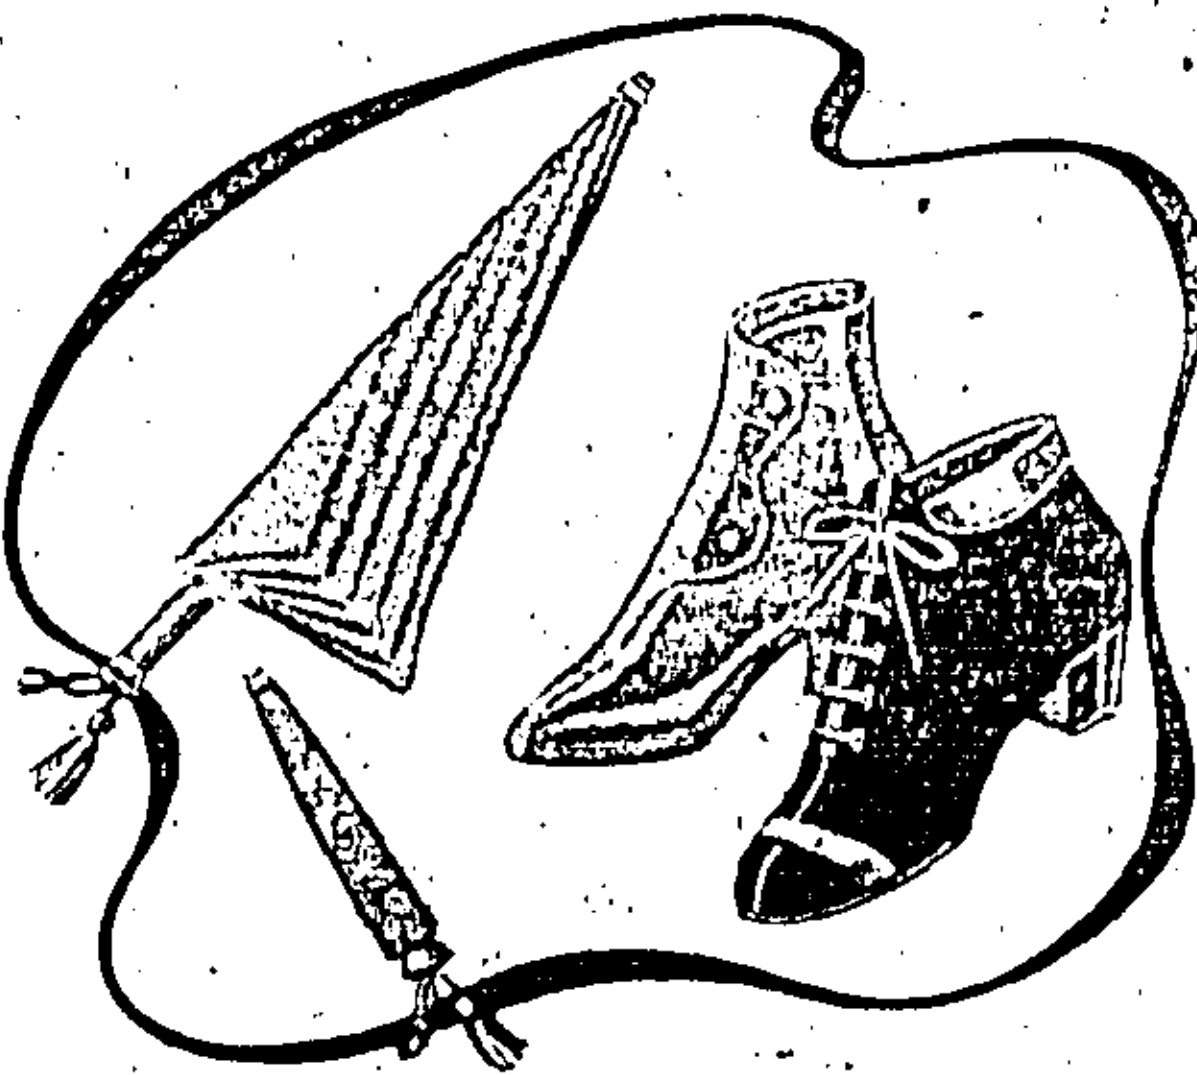

It's no use complaining of youthful vanity—every girl is keen to be pretty—just as every mother wants her daughter to be the belle of her first "ball."

The best way for mothers to tackle the problem is to turn this youthful interest to good account. Teach your daughter the value of skin cleanliness. See that she uses only pure soap, and get her into the habit of rinsing her face a cold splash after every wash.

Give her a manœuvre outfit with really good implements. Poor quality files and scissors spoil the nails. If the cost is important, buy the manœuvre things separately and make a roll-case for them from chambray leather.

As to powder, no one likes a shiny nose, so see that she has a finely sifted, pure powder which won't harm a lovely young skin. Teach her to apply a light foundation cream first.

Be firm about rouge. Any girl in her 'teens should have a wild-rose colour which not only does not need artificial aid, but is spoilt by it.

Ankle high, buttoned booties in patterned rubber. Right, lace up suede with neat turn-downs. Brollies, chubby or handbag size, should match your outfit.

Something New for Supper

HAVE you ever heard of Jellied Salads? If you like something quite unusual and want to give your friends a treat, try one. They are really quite easy to make.

Chicken

CUT up the remains of a cold chicken in small pieces (enough to make a breakfast cupful) and mix it with a quarter of that amount of finely minced onion, soaked in a quarter of a cup of cold water and dissolved over some hot water. Season with salt and pepper, paprika pepper being best, and put it into a mould or pudding basin and let it get cold. Turn it out then on a bed of green salad.

Take three-quarters of a cupful of mayonnaise dressing and mix with it a level tablespoonful of gelatine, soaked in a quarter of a cup of cold water and dissolved over some hot water. Season with salt and pepper, paprika pepper being best, and put it into a mould or pudding basin and let it get cold. Turn it out then on a bed of green salad.

If you like to pour the mixture into a turban mould, you can then turn it out into a ring, on the green salad, and garnish the centre with more green stuff, a Russian salad. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise sauce.

Tomato

MAKE a puree with some fresh tomatoes, strain it and measure out three cupfuls, keeping the puree hot. Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatine in half a cupful of cold water and when it is dissolved add it, with a teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, to the tomato puree.

Mould and let get cold, then turn out on to lettuce leaves and mask with mayonnaise sauce. The addition of a little paprika pepper to the tomato puree is good.

Fish

FLAKE up a cupful and a half of cold boiled cod, season it with a little salt, cayenne pepper and a squeeze or two of lemon juice, and leave it in a covered dish for an hour.

Dissolve a third of a tablespoonful of gelatine in a tablespoonful and a half of water and add it to some mayonnaise dressing. As the dressing thickens, add half a cupful of stiffly whipped cream and flaked fish. Put into a mould and serve on lettuce leaves.

RADIO COMEDY IN NORTH SEA

Trawler Skippers' Unofficial "Talks"—G.P.O. Baffled

New Star for The Screen

London, Dec. 15.

HOLLYWOOD has discovered a new film star of exceptional beauty and ability.

Frances Farmer, who is of medium height with blonde hair and hazel eyes, makes an excellent impression in her first considerable part in the film version of Edna Ferber's "Come and Get It" at the London Pavilion.

"Come and Get It" is a pageant of life in the United States lumber industry from 1884 to 1907. Frances Farmer appears first as a singer in a drinking saloon and later as the singer's daughter.

As the singer she adopts a lazy insolence which is effective. As the daughter she presents a perfect picture of a country girl who is unspooled but resolved to let nothing stand in the way of her ambition to become a success.

VIVID DRAMA

Because of the charm of Frances Farmer and the gusto of Edward Arnold as the lumber king, "Come and Get It" suffers remarkably little from the handicap of costume and becomes a vivid human drama.

The new Katharine Hepburn film, "A Woman Rebels," now at the Carlton Theatre, Haymarket, is a less satisfactory excursion into costume.

What the woman rebels against is Victorian England. She does so while her daughter grows up and the man who wants to marry her remains uniformly loyal and sentimental.

"A Woman Rebels" is well produced, but its emotions are rather remote and its dialogue occasionally unfortunate.

Capt. Rivett-Carnac To Command The Leander

CAPT. James W. Rivett-Carnac, D.S.C., who has taken over command of the cruiser Leander, 2nd Cruiser Squadron, latterly doing special duty in Spanish waters, in relief of Capt. A. F. E. Palliser, D.S.C., proceeding to China Station as Chief of Staff to Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Little, Commander in Chief on that station, is the second son of Sir G. C. Rivett-Carnac.

He was a gunnery officer in the Grand Fleet during the Great War, one of his ships having been the cruiser Cleopatra, and it was for service in her as a range-finding expert that he was decorated.

During the Anglo-Italian tension, he commanded the cruiser Coventry—packed with anti-aircraft guns—in the Mediterranean.

The Rivett-Carnac family, who are of undoubted Norman extraction, going back to the 12th century, have been Service people from time immemorial.

Post Office Make Three-year Test of Inoculation Against Colds: A Failure

HUNDREDS OF VOLUNTEERS WERE TREATED

"No Reduction in Sickness"

London, Dec. 20.
FOR three years the Chief Medical Officer to the Post Office has been conducting an experiment in inoculation against colds. The experiment has been a failure.

A statement issued by the Post Office to-day says that the experiment was made "with the voluntary co-operation of members of the Post Office staff, to determine the utility of anti-catarth vaccine for the prevention or diminution of catarth disability."

"Volunteers were invited from various typical large towns, and some hundreds of them were inoculated in the autumn of the three years 1933-4-5. Their sickness rates over periods ante-dating the inoculations and during the treatment were compared. Comparisons were also made with large control groups in each place of un-inoculated workers.

"NEGATIVE"
"The experiment showed some improvement in about 10 per cent. of the volunteers—less than half the original number—who persisted throughout the three years of the experiment."

"But the results taken as a whole were not encouraging, inasmuch as over the whole group and for the whole period there was virtually no reduction of sickness as compared with the control groups or with their previous sick records."

"In view of the negative character of the results, the inoculation of anti-catarth vaccine as a large-scale routine measure has not been considered justifiable."

Munich Refuses To Pay Church QUESTION OF PRINCIPLE

Munich, Dec. 18.

Munich's intransigent archbishop, Cardinal Faulhaber, and Nazi Chief Burgomaster Karl Fiehrer, cannot agree over the manner in which times have changed.

According to the Burgomaster's interpretation our times having changed, the city of Munich no longer is obliged to pay the Catholic church the subsidies which it once pledged to pay under contract.

The sums in question are small, but the principles involved are far-reaching.

Under a contract concluded when the suburb of Schwabing was incorporated with Munich, the city undertook to pay the Catholic parish of St. Ursula of Schwabing 420 marks annually.

After the Nazis' coming to power, the city refused to pay. The matter was brought before the courts. The highest court having jurisdiction in the case, the Administration Court, rendered a judgment favourable to the church. But Burgomaster Fiehrer declared that he would not pay.

He convened the city council which declared that the court's judgment was to be regarded as void since it was "in keeping with the National Socialist idea of the state." The contract, the city council added, was concluded at a time when the relations between church and state were totally different from those prevailing to-day.

Outraged by the Burgomaster's attitude, Cardinal Faulhaber, as supreme leader of the church in Munich, resorted to "sanctions."

He ordered the removal from all Catholic churches in the city of the poor-boxes, wherein between 1,000 and 2,000 marks usually accumulated every year—the poor-boxes being the property of the city's charitable institutions.

"Times have changed," the Cardinal declared. "When those poor-boxes of the City of Munich were

Short-Wave Shocks for Listeners

Lowestoft, Dec. 20.

Fishermen's rough voices, booming into the "mikes" of radio transmitters on board herring drifters, are giving the Post Office an official headache.

Every night this radio cross-chat flashes across the North Sea from drifter to drifter to the great delight of short-wave listeners in Lowestoft and Yarmouth who are able to hear the fishermen's sometimes rather unorthodox "talks."

And here is where the G.P.O. headache comes in. Three years ago the Post Office allowed all drifters engaged in herring fishing to fit radio receivers and transmitters. This enabled skippers to communicate with the shore and get market prices.

FREE RADIO

All they had to do was to connect with the Humber broadcasting station and their messages would be sent through the Post Office at usual rates.

But it was soon discovered that with short-wave sets messages could be received from the drifters without troubling the Humber station or paying the Post Office fee.

In the first year of the experiment, the Post Office took payment for—two messages.

In the second year for—one. This year receipts are nothing at all. Hence the P.O. headache.

Another official grumble is that drifters, owing to some confusion about their instructions, have been using the wrong wavelength. They have sometimes strayed on a wavelength belonging to the Dutch Trinity House service.

As a result, important official messages have been jammed while the skippers "were tough, we are . . ."

I set out in a 90-ton drifter from Lowestoft the other night to hear these amateur broadcasters at work. Scores of brightly-lit drifts were clustered at Smith's Knoll, a favourite spot for dropping the nets. "We added our lights to the collection, and then the radio in the wheel-house was switched on."

Instead of the dulcet Oxford accent I half-expected from the set, I heard the rough voice of a fisherman.

"Hullo . . . hullo . . . that you, Nelson. This is Oalcree. How are you George, you old blighter? No, we aren't doing so badly. Sixty crans the last shoot. Gale warning? Yes, I know, but we aren't taking any notice of the blin'ing thing. Some of them have the wind up. They're hauling in their nets and going back. What? Not on your life. We're tough, we are . . ."

I timed one of these broadcasts. It lasted well over an hour.

Once the radio was silent, except for a crackling roar.

"Atmospherics," they said.

I'm still convinced it was a hoarse chorus of rage in official Dutch and English.

MALAY SULTAN DEMANDS TITLE FOR FIRST-BORN

Singapore, Dec. 15.

The 73-year-old Sultan of Selangor has announced that he will make a pilgrimage to London to protest in person to the Colonial Office against being forced to accept his third son as his heir and successor.

The Sultan intends to interview the Hon. W. G. Ormsby-Gore, colonial secretary, and other high officials. He also expects to meet his most intimate English friend, Sir Frank Swettenham, the former governor, who negotiated the British treaty with the Sultan.

The dispute in Selangor began with the deposing of the Sultan's eldest son from the position of Crown Prince after he had held it for 15 years. British advisers rejected the second son's claims to the succession and installed on the throne being made Crown Prince and heir to the throne. Against this the Sultan protests. The eldest son was deposed because of his "unprincipled manner of living."

The Sultan contends that the British authorities have broken their treaty obligation not to interfere with affairs of Malay custom and religion, and that when he asked the Colonial Office to submit the case to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council the request was refused.

placed in the churches, the city's charitable institutions were in the habit of closely co-operating with the church. This is no longer the case. Hence, there is no justification in maintaining this permanent collection on behalf of the city in the churches."

According to latest reports, Fiehrer is planning a shrewd counter-move. He wants to replace the boxes outside the churches on city soil where the cardinal cannot remove them. Seeing the new boxes outside the churches, Munich's will doubtless realise that times have changed.

When laughs are longer and louder Laurel and Hardy will bring them forth! The rib-tickling comedy kings are offering their latest full-length picture, "Our Relations," on the screen of the King's Theatre to-day. Cast in dual roles, they play not only themselves but also their somewhat disreputable "twin brothers," and the results are the funniest film audiences have witnessed in many a month of laughs.

EMPIRE TRADE BACKING

EXCHANGE OBSTACLE CIRCUMVENTED
LINK WITH GERMANY

London, Dec. 24. A company entitled Compensation Brokers, Ltd., has been formed in London, under powerful auspices, to facilitate commerce between the British Dominions, Colonies and European countries whose normal trade is curtailed by exchange restrictions.

The trade will be principally with Germany, on a barter system. The company is a hundred per cent. British, with Lord Glenconner as Chairman.

It is understood that the British Government is offering no objections to the scheme and that the Dominions Governments also approve it, whilst the German authorities have promised certain facilities and privileges.

The Company, in a statement, says it realises that in some instances competition will exist between British and German manufactured goods, but it proposes to work in close contact with British industry in order to ensure that such additional German exports will not divert trade from Britain. Moreover, it is expected that the company will be able to assist in the furtherance of export agreements between United Kingdom and German exports.

The company emphasises that it has no intention of disturbing the existing channels of trade where they are working satisfactorily.

The company also hopes to deal with Turkey, Rumania, Bulgaria and Jugoslavia. It intends to deal in foodstuffs, furs, oil, skins, hides, sisal, jute and rubber. In the event of an outbreak of war, shipments to the belligerents would be automatically stopped.

It is claimed that the volume of Empire trade will be increased by the scheme, because countries like the United States and Japan, which are at present supplying the Dominions, do not buy from them in the same ratio, whereas under the scheme trade would be balanced.—Reuter.

TREASURY APPROVES

Washington, Dec. 24. The Treasury announces its approval of the barter transactions with Germany, and states that it will not assess countervailing duties against such barter.

The Treasury also mentioned two types of transactions, involving so-called blocked marks, which likewise would not be considered to be subject to countervailing duties.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

SIANFU ACCORD FORESEEN

FOREIGNERS FEAR EFFECT OF WAR
U.S. REQUESTS PROTECTION

Shanghai, Dec. 24.

A settlement of the Sianfu revolt is likely whereby Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang will place himself under the protection of Marshal Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of the adjoining province of Shansi.

General Chiang Kai-shek would then be released and remain at Sianfu to clean up the situation.

The inducements offered to the rebel troops are not known, but, in any event, their position is becoming untenable, owing to the overwhelming superiority of the Government forces.

Marshal Yen Hsi-shan has ably ruled Shansi, which has been known as a model province since 1911. He is fully loyal to Nanking, but is equally a friend of Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang.—Reuter.

NANKING'S DEMANDS

Nanking, Dec. 24.

Feelings of impatience are mounting, following repeated "requests" to delay military operations.

The Nanking press is specially outspoken, demanding an early suppression of the revolt. The official organ, the Central Daily News, states: "We only want to hear news of the advance of the Government troops towards Sianfu. We do not want news of negotiations or of arrivals from Sianfu."

The general opinion is that a peaceful settlement must be reached by Christmas Day, or that there will be no further delay and Government troops will attack Sianfu from all directions.—Reuter.

FOREIGNERS IN DANGER

Peiping, Dec. 24.

Threatened hostilities are endangering the safety of foreigners in Shensi province.

The British Military Attaché is going to Loyang to-night to endeavour to arrange for the evacuation of British subjects.—Reuter.

REQUEST PROTECTION

Nanking, Dec. 24.

The American Embassy has telegraphed to General Yu Hsueh-chung requesting protection for American residents in Kansu and aid in evacuating those who are in the dangerous zones.—United Press.

REBEL DEFEATED

Nanking, Dec. 25.

It is officially stated that Central Government army vanguard troops defeated rebel units north of Weiran. The rebels have withdrawn to Weiran and Government troops are moving westward, north and south of the Wei River, and have captured Chonghsien.—United Press.

AMERICAN AID FOR LOYALISTS

FAMOUS FLIER AT HEAD OF RAIDERS
"XMAS CHEER FOR BURGOS"

Hendaye, Dec. 25.

The "Yankee Squadron," under the leadership of the famous aviator, Bert Acosta, has started for Burgos, carrying hundreds of incendiary bombs and planning to wreck hangars and munition dumps. Meanwhile, loyalist infantry is storming Burgos outposts.

In "the most vigorous battle of the northern campaign," which has lasted for a whole day, more than 200 have been killed.

Acosta and his fellow-officers refer to the bombs they carry as "Messages of Christmas cheer for the boys of Burgos."

His fliers include: Eddie Schneider, Jr., Major Frederick Lord, Captain Gordon Barry. Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Barry are disappointed because they hoped their husbands would join them for a party at Biarritz for Christmas.

SHELLING MADRID

Meanwhile, at Madrid, the rebels have started a heavy artillery bombardment and planes bombed the city after nightfall. Many were wounded.

Terminating the pre-Christmas lull, says a recent despatch, Rightists shelled the centre of the capital late this afternoon. Five shells struck in the heart of the city within 30 minutes.

The Defence Committee states at noon that the Leftists had resisted successfully the Rightist attempt to penetrate their lines throughout the night.

FESTIVITIES CANCELLED

The Santander War Commissioner has ordered suspension of all Christmas festivities, saying: "To-day we must be more alert than ever. Christmas festivities will be celebrated in due time."

From Seville, General Del Lano has broadcast that 500 men of the Loyalist International Brigade were killed attempting to recapture a village south of Madrid, Piedrabuena.

He added that Nationalist troops had occupied Moxtero and Villa del Rio and warned that the evacuation period at several ports, including Bilbao, had terminated. Henceforth the rebels would not be responsible for any foreign ships sunk, he said.—United Press.

QUAKES CONTINUE IN SALVADOR

San Salvador, Dec. 24.

Minor quakes continue to bring down houses in the devastated area of the San Vicente volcano.

Stringent health measures have been invoked, hundreds of corpses being burned. Most of the refugees are concentrated in a tent city at the village of Apastapoque.—United Press.

GERMANY AND JAPAN

European reactions to the recently-concluded understanding between Germany and Japan, if we are to judge by the comments appearing in newspapers now to hand, revolve around the precise value of the accord to the signatories. There is a considerable body of opinion which thinks that the interests of the two countries, apart from their mutual hatred of Russia, are about as widely separated as the two nations are geographically, and that, therefore, the understanding cannot amount to much. On the other hand, there are those who look for a hidden meaning in the pact, and who consider that it tends to increase international uncertainty and suspicion. The economic implications of the agreement are the subject of considerable speculation, in which connection the view has been expressed that these are such as to make it unlikely that peace will be broken for some time. There is, of course, no questioning the point that Japan is becoming increasingly apprehensive of the rate at which Russia is re-arming, especially in the air, and there is further fact that China has for some time past been increasing her military efficiency by ordering better equipment from Europe. Against this, it is reported that Japan has been latterly conscious of her own military shortcomings and that she will look to German factories to make up her deficiencies.
One commentator thinks that the German factories will be kept busy for a considerable time in supplying the needs of both China and Japan, but from another quarter the view is expressed that China, disliking the German accord with Japan, may in future turn elsewhere for her military requirements.
From the purely economic standpoint, Germany's gains from the new understanding are not likely to be great, for Germany and Japan are keen trade competitors in world markets, and there seems little opportunity

BOLD and outspoken was the Rev. John Donald MacLean, minister of the Union Church, Kowloon, when he addressed a large congregation at the Kennedy Road Union Church in an exchange of pulpits last Sunday.

In accusing the Anglican Church of virtual hypocrisy in its attitude to marriage and divorce, the "little minister" of the Colony put into actual words the feeling of many people to-day that some of the Church's leaders should be more tolerant to those who have had the experience of broken marriage and yet seek happiness again in a union blessed by the church. The inconsistency of the church must have caused deep grief to some who have been afraid to approach their minister for fear of a rebuff.
I could sense that there was some sympathy with the Rev.
J. L. MacLean on Sunday in his remarks on the abdication while there were others who were not in agreement with him all the way.

A number of correspondents have since expressed agreement with him, however, both privately and through the Press.
Among his fellow clergies, he is known for his wide views which place him outside the ordinary nomenclature of Union, Methodist, Presbyterian etc., and Mr. MacLean professes to be known simply as a Christian minister.

Born in 1907, he came to Hongkong about a year ago from Scotland where he had qualified for the Presbyterian Church before transferring to the Congregationalists. After considerable experience in Scottish parishes, town council and social work, he brought a bunch of testimonials and his good-looking wife to the Far East.
Since then he has earned the name of a stylish writer (contributes to the Press and wrote for openings being found in Japan itself. On the other hand, some economists think that by concluding this agreement Germany stands in danger of losing a big part of the much greater market provided in China. So far as the Far Eastern situation generally is concerned, diplomats incline to the view that Japan will leave China in comparative peace until she can count herself strong enough to face up to Russia. If this view is soundly based, there seems little fear of any immediate armed clash in this part of the world. None the less, the complexity of the world situation as a whole, with Russo-German relations becoming increasingly strained, makes prophecy more than usually difficult in view of the possibilities inherent in the new anti-Communist understandings.

Was A Menace To Microbes

A striking personality both in his career and appearance is Professor Dr. J. R.
Nocht, at present in Hongkong on a visit to his son, Mr. Helmut Nocht, who is in business here.
For years, Dr. Nocht waged scientific warfare against the microbes that are responsible for most tropical diseases, and in so doing earned for himself a reputation in the world of medicine that eventually took him to an important post in the League of Nations Union.

As the instigator of the Institute for Tropical Diseases in Hamburg, Dr. Nocht was carrying on a work of hygiene for which former German colonists were justly renowned. The Institute is now an important centre of study but since his country left the League, Dr.
Nocht had of course to resign his commission with them.

Retired now, he carries his years vigorously and still takes a keen interest in medical work.
For his research in leprosy he is also well-known but he told me that his present visit was solely for the purpose of seeing his son and taking a holiday.

The Hon. Dr. A. R. Wellinton took Dr. Nocht to the Rotary Club luncheon on Tuesday where the distinguished visitor made a number of acquaintances.

New Consul General

Is Popular

ALTHOUGH he has been in Singapore a short time Mr. Kao Ling-pao, the new Chinese Consul-General, is quickly becoming a popular figure among the Chinese community there.

He was guest at a tea party given in honour of his appointment and held at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. The fact that there were about 300 people present representing some 120 associations indicates the importance of his post.
Indeed, Mr. Kao holds the view that the Chinese of Malaya have played an important part in the development of China.
"Without the help and co-operation of Malayan Chinese," he said, "China could not have attained the position she is in today."

As is already widely known,
Mr. Kao was a close associate of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek while he was working in Nanking as Secretary to the Chinese Government. Bearing that in mind his remark about China's policy is of special importance, not least because of the implied reference to the present Sino-Japanese situation.

Like his predecessor, Dr.
Philip K. C. Tyau, Mr. Kao is eager to see education more widespread among local Chinese and he welcomes the new education policy of Singapore.

Incidentally, I hear that Dr.
Tyau is quickly settling down to his new work in Canton.

He was in Hongkong recently with the Governor of Kwang-tung paying a call on Sir Andrew Caldecott, Dr. Tyau and Sir Andrew knew each other well in Singapore.

Dr. Tyau was widely praised for his handling of the Pakhoi affair and is said to be now turning his eyes to Hainan where anti-Japanese feeling is on the increase.

Eskimos His

Friends

IN the news to-day by reason of his spirited appeal for starving Eskimos, is Dr. Henry W. Greist who has spent a long stretch of his life working among them in the frozen villages of the Arctic Coast.

His message came from Alaska during November that numerous Eskimos were being driven to removing the skin from their boats and cooking their boots to obtain nourishment. "Unless food is forthcoming immediately, hundreds will follow the few who have already died from emaciation."

Dr. Greist's appeal is coincident with his retirement from the headship of the Point Barrow Presbyterian Mission. Typical of the man who has given a great deal to improve conditions among the Eskimos, his first act in retirement to a less rigorous climate at Fairbanks, Alaska, was to issue a stern appeal to the world for assistance.

Said Dr. Greist: The wolves have driven the caribou away,
Reindeer herds are disappearing.
Almost no fish or seals were caught this summer. The men who denied the famine have never been in the Point Barrow vicinity; they naturally cannot speak regarding conditions.
The Eskimos asked permission to drive their reindeer east from Point Barrow to protect them from wolves, but the Indian service denied the request because of the expense involved.
Conditions at Point Barrow are bad, he added, and pitiful at Barter Island and in the demarcation area.

Hongkong Journalist

To Chiang's Adviser

A former Hongkong editor, William Henry Donald, has come into the picture during the past week in connection with the detention of Chiang Kai-shek.

Former adviser of the Young Marshal, Donald has for some time acted in a similar capacity to the captive Generalissimo.
It was therefore but natural that he should immediately fly to Sianfu when Chang made his bold but ill-timed stroke. His announcement that Chiang was safe caused widespread relief.

Donald, who is 60 years old but carries his age remarkably well, is an Australian, having been born at Lithgow, N.S.W., where his father was the first Mayor.

After his training on the old Sydney Telegraph he joined the Melbourne Argus, and in 1903 he came to Hongkong as sub-editor of the China Mail, of which journal he subsequently became editor and managing director. On the death of "Chinese" Morrison, another Australian, he took up the post of adviser to the Chinese Government about five years later.

Before leaving journalism, he represented the China Mail and several Australian journals from the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese War until 1904, and was also special correspondent for leading London newspapers with the Baltic Fleet under Admiral Rozhdestvensky at Van Fong Bay and Port Dyoit, in Annam, in 1905, being the only British correspondent to witness the final departure of the fleet from the coast of Tsushima in May of that year.

Horses Were Bled

On Boxing Day

IT is, I fear, a forgotten fact that Boxing Day is also St. Stephen's Day and that the occasion which we now use to throw aside our work and play football, cricket and tennis, was formerly dedicated to the important rite of bleeding horses.

St. Stephen is the patron saint of the horse and the custom was introduced by the Danes of letting the animal's blood on December 26 because the act would supposedly cure it of many ailments. In particular, the Pope's stud was physicked and the blood used for remedial purposes.

Other usages I have been able to retrieve from musty volumes say that Christmas Boxes were given away on December 26, from which Boxing Day is derived.

In days of yore the following counties celebrated the occasion in this fashion.

Bedfordshire—the poor begged Christmas feast remains.

Buckinghamshire—Drayton parishioners ate as much bread and cheese and drank as much ale as they could at the Vlear-age while Clifton Reynes' pastor had to find cheese and a pint of ale to every resident single person.

Cambridgeshire—St. Stephen's Pudding used annually to be provided at St. John's College.

Isle of Man—Superstitious islanders "hunted the wren" in whose shape, legend said, was a destructive siren who formerly wiled men into the sea where they perished. The bird was sought and killed on Boxing Day and the feathers were supposed to make the holder immune from shipwreck for a year.

Norfolk—Church peals are rung at East Dereham church.
Oxfordshire—The Vicars of Bampton gave beer and beef to all comers at St. Stephen's breakfast.

Yorkshire—Goose pies used to be distributed to the poor while youths in white did a kind of Morris dance with swords.

Wales—Everyone was privileged to whip peoples' legs with holly and this was reciprocated so heartily that blood was often drawn.

Ireland—The Irish used to bear a holly tree with wrens suspended from it, from house to house singing and collecting small aims.

BULLS AND INNERS

From the Office Butts

Appropriately enough, news is to hand that Turkey and Greece are coming closer together.

Looking at the remains of the bird after dinner last night, a housewife came to the conclusion that there was too much turkey-stuffing.

Only about 300 more shopping days before Christmas.

"Hongkong Trade Returns," says heading on November statistics, showing all-round increases. Looks as if it really has.

And so this is Boxing Day.
Seem to be a lot of empty ones about the house.

As Mr. Heinz said: The Condiments of the Season to You.

A lady travelling on the Peak tram yesterday mentioned that she had had nine bottles of perfume given to her. She smelt like it.

A contemporary published a recipe guaranteed to keep mincemeat for a year. We tried some last night and it feels as if it's going to.

We thought that the lady who appeared as cupid the night before last was Christmas Eve.

Then there was the tennis player who was sorry he drank so many mixed doubles last night. And the bowler who had too much d-rink.

The reveller seen wearing a false nose on the ferry early this morning, nearly came before the beak.

'OVALTINE'

I used to think it was worry

Many a man or woman who is "run-down" and depressed will look in vain for the cause before arriving at the correct one . . . Food Debility.

In these modern, bustling times the symptoms of Food Debility are everywhere more evident. The reason is that the ordinary dietary does not provide all the food elements essential for making good the extra demands on your nervous system. As a result, energy flags, vitality is lowered, and starved nerves give rise to sleepless nights.

You will always be safe from Food Debility when delicious 'Ovaltine' is your daytime and bedtime beverage. 'Ovaltine' makes the daily dietary complete in the nourishment which builds up body, brain and nerves. A-cup of 'Ovaltine' at bedtime ensures sound, natural sleep and creates new energy and vitality for the coming day.

But, it must be 'Ovaltine'—there is nothing "just as good". Remember that 'Ovaltine' is a complete food scientifically prepared from the highest qualities of eggs, milk and malt. Eggs are expensive, but are liberally used in 'Ovaltine' because they are rich in lecithin (organic phosphorus)—a valuable nerve-building element. No tonic food beverage would be complete without this vital substance.

For all these reasons 'Ovaltine' stands in a class by itself. It gives you more in quality and more in quantity. Furthermore, owing to the huge world-wide demand for 'Ovaltine', it is available at prices which make it by far the most economical food beverage in use.

—for things had been very difficult at the office. So I started to cultivate a more philosophic frame of mind. I tried hard, but I was just as "nervy", listless and "played-out" as before.

Or perhaps—Insomnia

For months I hadn't had a really good night's sleep. "I'll go to bed earlier," I thought. But I might have known that sound sleep was out of the question with my nerves constantly on edge.

I feared a nervous breakdown.

—I was getting really alarmed—and then Phil told me about 'Ovaltine'. Well—I'm a new man since taking 'Ovaltine'. It gave me just the nourishment I needed. For, after all, my trouble was Food Debility.

Quality always tells—insist on 'OVALTINE'

FINALE GROUP—"JACK AND THE BEANSTALK"

King's Studio photograph of the cast of the Y.M.C.A. pantomime "Jack and the Beanstalk."

FUNCTIONS

IT WAS A MAD WHIRL PHILHARMONIC

Society's newly formed orchestra and music lovers of Hongkong generally, will learn with regret of impending departure from the Colony of Bandmaster A. B. Yule, of the 2nd Bn., Lancashire Regiment, who leaves for India on January 12.

Mr. Yule has been a tower of strength to Philharmonic in past two years, and has built up a subsidiary organisation which, many people believe, will add considerably to Colony's prestige in years to come. Hongkong sadly lacks a Municipal Orchestra, such as is enjoyed by Shanghai, and formation of Philharmonic Orchestra was long overdue.

With departure of Mr. Yule, Philharmonic must cast around for another baton-wielder and it won't be easy to fill the shoes shortly to be vacated.

Mr. Yule is conducting a farewell orchestra practice at the Seamen's Institute at 8.30 p.m. on Friday, January 5.

Incidentally, membership of orchestra is open to any Hongkong music enthusiast who can play appropriate instruments. Practices have been in past, and doubtless will be in the future, regularly held.

Jack and the Beanstalk

Y.M.C.A. Pantomime "Jack and the Beanstalk," already reviewed in the "Telegraph," needs little further comment from me.

Honours easily go to "Bob" Henderson and Leonard Starbuck who, as "Dizzy" and "Widow Wanchai," were superb, and are worthy of Philharmonic Society's attention if they're ever in need of another good comedian. Noreen Cooper (Principal Boy) pleased the large audience that crowded West Lounge and Y's dining room, temporarily converted to enlarge West lounge in view of heavy bookings, and played a heavy role pleasingly. Kathleen Winch, "last love" of the Bachelor Gay number in "Maid of the Mountains," was a dainty Principal Boy. "Jack and the Beanstalk," like "Maid of the Mountains," is also notable for the excellence of its ballet and the children were exquisite.

Final performance will be given at 8 p.m. to-night. It will be preceded by a Matinee at 3 p.m.

Both Sides of Harbour

EVERY Hongkong social rendezvous reported record bookings for Thursday night.

Busiest people were Vera Love and the Ten Festive Follies, who, in addition to giving three hours in Gripps at the Hongkong Hotel, had to journey across the harbour thrice to give same number of turns at the Peninsula Rose Room and Roof Garden.

The eleven girls received an uproarious welcome on both sides of the harbour, and performances stamp them as firm favourites with Hongkongians.

Eula Hoff and Bob Burnett, who are leaving early in January to commence a season at Raffles in Singapore, also trekked across the harbour to make three appearances at Peninsula Hotel. These two stars, who have enjoyed one of the longest and most happy seasons in Hongkong, have entirely captivated local socialites, and have done much to make present dance season so popular.

Gloucester Gaiety

GLoucester Hotel also reported record bookings for Christmas Eve and it became necessary to place several tables on Roof Verandah, which was entirely closed in for occasion. Dixie Sisters and Duo Artinellas, who have gained a rapidly increasing following since their first appearance on December 10, were again the main attractions.

I SUPPOSE you have heard of little Audrey, whose Mother sent her to the shop for fly paper, and little Audrey laughed and laughed and laughed because she knew that flies did not use paper.

I was reminded of this little story by your criticism of the Philharmonic Orchestra in last Saturday's Entertainment Page. The Philharmonic laughed and laughed and laughed because they knew there was no piccolo.

A MEMBER of the ORCHESTRA. Piccolo: A small flute with tones an octave higher than those of the ordinary flute. Philharmonic's offending instrument was a flute.

WHY don't you write something about ZBW. It is almost six months since you conducted your Radio Vote, in which the Postmaster General said he was so interested. Yet, as far as I can gather, no effort whatever has been made to put into practice the suggestions made by readers. ZBW has been deplorable lately. It let us down badly over the Abdication of King Edward and I was one of the many listeners who missed his farewell broadcast entirely, because it was not relayed at the advertised time. No effort was apparently made to relay the Nanking speech by Mr. H. H. Kung last week, nor has ZBW made any effort to relay Zeezen and other short wave signals, as requested by an overwhelming number of your readers.

Incidentally, just prior to the relay of the second act of the Dress Rehearsal of Philharmonic's "Maid of the Mountains," ZBW broadcast a recording of experts from the same play, by the London Symphony Orchestra. Imagine the effect on those who shortly afterwards heard the Hongkong Philharmonic Society's players giving the same numbers in a necessarily inferior style. Wake up, ZBW!

TWELVE BUCKS.

John B. Kennedy is including Hongkong on a round-the-world itinerary as the first radio reporter to tour the world.

He will leave Alameda Airport in California in mid-January by Pan-American Airways' China Clipper, arrive in Hongkong towards end of month.

Chance for ZBW to get his services, as he intends to give broadcasts on route around world.

HONGKONG listeners will be interested to learn that important developments in short-wave broadcasting are taking place in Siam to material benefit of radio fans all over the world. Siam Government has decided to install powerful short waves which will be additional to HSBP, already operating on 27.38 and 32.09 metres on Mondays and Thursdays from 8 to 10 p.m. H.K.T.

Incidentally, the Superintendent Engineer of HSBP, Post and Telegraph Department, Bangkok, would be pleased to have reports on reception from Hongkong listeners. QSL cards will be sent in response to requests.

ANOTHER link with America's famous Buffalo Bill ends with death in New Mexico of Mrs. May Lillie, wife of Major Gordon Lillie. Major Lillie, who lives in retirement at Taos, was Buffalo Bill's partner, is known throughout world as Pawnee Bill. The Lillies celebrated their golden wedding at Taos last month, were presented with motor car by huge crowd of admirers. A week later the car was involved in an accident, Mrs. Lillie was killed outright.

HONGKONG GIRL TO GO ON SCREEN?

ANOTHER Hongkong girl, pictured above, may some day make good in the film world.

Her name is Peggy O'Neill. She has left Hongkong for England, armed with an invitation to proceed to a big British film studio for a film test.

Her first break came when Douglas Fairbanks passed through here. He suggested that she should have a film test, and gave her a letter of recommendation.

One of the local studios subsequently made a test, and the "rushes" were sent home. Mrs. O'Neill has been asked to go to the British studio for further tests.

She left by the Ranchi last week.

What A Dance Band Leader Thinks of H.K.

BURTON CRANE, famed American raconteur, novelist and swing-enthusiast, has just returned to New York from a tour of the Far East. With Claude Lapham, well-known Unistates musician, he has associated himself in an article on musical and other conditions he encountered whilst out here. The article appeared in a recent issue of Metronome. Here are their opinions of some of the centres visited:

Hongkong—This city is very close to Manila and consequently infested with Philippine musicians. Most decidedly, these play better than their Chinese competitors, but they are only outstanding in comparison with the Chinese. In America they would be lost in the shuffle. The public is mad about dancing. Take the Repulse Bay Hotel, the Lido, the Hongkong Hotel, then there is no floor in the whole Orient.

Shanghai—more Parisian than Paris itself—unbelievable freedom. Nearby is a famous seaside summer resort, Tangtiao, but Shanghai itself requires the services of some twenty bands, of which more than two are of present more than second-rate in ability. The city is infested with expatriated White Russians of extremely inferior quality as musicians, and most times of arrogant and overbearing mien, so much so that they are very unpopular with the Anglo-Saxons.

The Little Club (Mr. Berg, manager) operates two establishments, and Mr. Berg often comes to America in search for reasonably priced and good bands. Then there is the Paramount Ballroom, which has a sporadic succession of success and failure; the Calidrome, which operates the Casanova Ballroom and a night club. There still remain many second-rate establishments, which are mostly speculative, and the author especially desires to warn all musicians that any job in China is risky, regardless of the fact of having a contract. There seems to be a lack of responsibility that you won't find in your dealings in Japan.

Tientsin—This is divided into several concessions, controlled by the French, English, Italians, Japanese and Russians. The town is dance mad, especially noticeable in the French and Japanese concessions, with one sumptuous night club in the Italian district. Most of these jobs are held by resident Russians of inferior calibre, drawing good money, but no contracts are signed, with the exception of the American Country Club.

Peking—The Chinese government control this city and as a consequence, permit no dance girls, such a policy militating against popularity. Singapore has the Raffles Hotel, where a band is steadily employed; Soerabaya, Java, has its Cercle Artistique, but here the band must be able to put on a show as well, and also play concert music creditably. The radio stations in India are controlled by immensely wealthy Parsees or Brahmins, with a distinct aversion to importing English musicians. As a result, the cream of concert and dance work is performed by expatriated or imported Hungarian and Central European orchestral units of dubitable calibre.

Is yours a PLACE NAME?

SURNAMES may be divided into four classes, and the largest of these classes is that of local names.

No fewer than 120 villages bear the name of Newton; and it was from one of these that Sir Isaac Newton, the famous mathematician, took his name.

Twelve villages are called Newport, and 11 Newbold. The popularity of the name Norton (North-town) is because there are 50 places so named. Sutton (South-town) gives its name to 77 villages.

There are also 38 Westons, and 21 Eastburys.

THEY SAID OF HONGKONG.—3. When King Edward VIII Came Here In 1922 He Said:— “I SHALL ALWAYS RETAIN THE HAPPIEST MEMORIES”

EX-KING EDWARD VIII, as the Prince of Wales, arrived in Hongkong on April 6, 1922, in the course of a tour of the Far East. He remained in this Colony for two days, during which time he participated in a polo match, rode a race-horse at the Happy Valley races, and, in his own words, “thoroughly enjoyed himself” at dances and other social functions.

The following comprise extracts from his reply to local Addresses and his farewell message to the people of Hongkong.

It is a source of great pleasure to me to visit this far famed outpost of the British Empire, and I am sincerely grateful for the words in which you have welcomed me here to-day.

The enterprise and perseverance of British pioneers in the last century, whose foresight in establishing this Colony on what was then a barren and inhospitable island, has brought its reward to succeeding generations. This splendid harbour, and rapidly growing docks, the houses and the roads that are being built in every direction, together with the beauty of scenery and cultivation that has taken the place of its former aridity bear witness to this and have made Hongkong one of the principal ports of the world.

During the Great War, now happily ended, Hongkong was able to carry on shipbuilding with unabated energy, and was one of the first of the Colonies to introduce compulsory service.

I have learned with feelings of the greatest pride that well over 500 men left the Colony on Active Service, which in those days was about one-third of the British male population of the Colony.

I am sailing from Hongkong with a great regret after an all too short stay and would convey to all the inhabitants of the Colony my heartfelt appreciation of the welcomes which they have given me during the last two days.

I enjoyed my first visit more than I can say. I shall always retain the happiest memories of Hongkong, and take the deepest interest in the welfare and prosperity of the Colony.

Dear Kiddies,
Some excellent work was sent in Frankie Haynes, Carmen Tavnres, for last week's Competition, in which Mimi du Rosa, Stefano Mose, for had to piece together various bits Yolanda Remedios, Bonnie Sue, of pictures to make a seaside scene. In the Senior Section, the colouring Eva Grady, Graciano Rozario, Vicente of some competitors was extremely good. After taking age and neatness into account, I find that the best Senior effort was that of Young Kit-wah (aged 11), 18 Bonham Road. The Junior prize goes to Peggyn Faber (aged 7), of the Peninsula Hotel; but Ronald Cameron (aged 8), Humphreys Building, Kowloon, comes so close to the winner that I've decided to award him a special consolation prize.

How much did Mr. Popforth disburse?

POLITEST GUNMEN IN AMERICA

Even Kept The Lift Working

New York, Dec. 15.
FOUR gunmen are still at large to-day who have reached a high watermark in crime for audacity and daring.

While they spent six hours robbing jewellers on the ground floor of a Washington building, they ran the lift, and kept the furnace going for 30 families living on the other floors.

Then they made off with loot valued at $1,000.

BOUND MEN
They first held up the liftman, Joseph McGrath, when he arrived at 7 a.m. yesterday. One put on his uniform and delivered a faultless service to residents.

Meanwhile, in the basement of the building, the superintendent and furnace-man lay bound hand and foot with the liftman. When they complained that they had no breakfast, the gunman on guard replied, "Be good, and if the boys are not finished by noon, we will give you something to eat."

He lit cigarettes for them, and read extracts from the newspapers.

HOLE CUT IN FLOOR
The other two gangsters had entered an unoccupied flat over the shop, cut a large hole through the floor, and climbed through.

By noon guns, watches, and rings were in the hands of the robbers, and they quietly left the building.

Telling his story of the hold-up, McGrath said, "I saw a guy hanging around the hall. The next thing I knew was that he was pointing a gun at me saying 'keep quiet'."

Superintendent Hoffman continued the story: "I was awakened by someone saying, 'there is a lady to see the empty flat. She means business.' So I opened the door. There was a gun right in my face."

WORLD LEAGUE ENVISAGED

Paris, Dec. 20.
Another world war, followed by an ultimate union of all the nations of Europe and America in a common front against the imminent yellow peril, are some of the predictions made by Paul Reynaud, French statesman, economist and acknowledged godfather of French devaluation, in a copyrighted interview with the Paris paper L'Intransigeant, in answer to the question "What will Europe be like in 1970?"

"Two opposing forces are at work," Paul Reynaud said, taking a long range view of the situation. "One tends to dissociate the powers, and the other to unite them."

"The first is the economic disequilibrium of Europe to-day, which can be largely assigned to two causes: industrial over-equipment, intended to supply goods to countries which have since started producing their own, and the postwar failure of North and South America to absorb the surplus manpower of the Old World."

"The combined effect has been to create a number of European states, particularly in Germany and Italy, a situation wrought with the gravest dangers, and one which may well lead to a continental catastrophe," Reynaud said.

But it is the rising might of Japan which, he feels, will bring Europe to its senses. "Japan," he says, "is now in the process of conquering not only North China, but All China. Japanese influence also extends to Siam. 'The future of the British outposts at Hongkong and Singapore is most uncertain. And what will become of Australia?'"

"Will Europe sense the danger in time?" Reynaud proceeds to ask, "Will nations with a few tens of millions of population realize the magnitude of their dream to govern a billion Asiatics?"

America, Paul Reynaud figures, will certainly come in as soon as European nations realize the futility of fighting one another. The common peril from the East may cement their common action.

Asked about his view as to the future of democracy Reynaud said that the peoples of Europe would afford the luxury of freedom to the extent that their sufferings are diminished. "Liberty is necessary to their cultural development," he said, "and nothing proves it better, than a view of Europe to-day."

"Whatever the future may bring," Reynaud concluded, "we are starting on a thrilling stretch of history. But it will take a younger man than I am, to see it through." United Press.

A new type of comedy is all the rage in London now. It shows caricatures of famous personalities painted on the backs of chorus girls. The picture shows the artist drawing the faces on the girls' backs.

THE ROYAL FAMILY IS TRAINING PRINCESS ELIZABETH TO BECOME A QUEEN

Niece of Edward
Second in Line
For Throne

London, Jan. 1.
A fair-haired, rather plain little girl of 10 is being trained to be Queen Elizabeth II of England.

She is Princess Elizabeth, eldest daughter of King George VI.

When King George VI is crowned in Westminster Abbey, May 12, 1937, Elizabeth will be there to see the ceremony in which, one day, she herself may play the leading part.

She will wear a short crimson robe, just like the other princesses, over her knee-length frock, but being a minor, she will wear no coronet. A garland of flowers will deck her fair hair.

SISTER NOT TO ATTEND

Her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, 6, is regarded as too young to attend.

Princess Elizabeth will succeed her father, unless the King and Queen have a son, who would, according to the law of the country, take precedence over his sisters.

Queen Elizabeth is unlikely to have any more children—Princess Margaret Rose was a Caesarean baby.

Thus Elizabeth is almost certain to succeed in due course.

ARDUOUS TRAINING FACED

Fully aware of this probability the little Princess is being carefully trained by her mother and her grandmother, Queen Mary.

At present her lessons are comparatively light, but as she grows older there will be many things she must learn—things which do not come within the ordinary training of a young lady of society.

Recently a report went around that Elizabeth was to be sent to a well-known girls' school at St. Andrews, Scotland. Official denials were issued, and it was learned that it was with the approval of the government, acting on the wish of the late King George, and Queen Mary, that she should be educated privately.

The intricacies of royal behaviour do not form a part of the curriculum of ordinary girls' schools. Before Elizabeth's mother married King George VI, she spent many hours every day learning them.

LIKES TO CLIMB TREES

Elizabeth, to-day, is just an ordinary little girl who would much rather skip with an old piece of rope than with one of her many skipping ropes, or play hopscotch, or climb trees.

Climbing trees is her latest accomplishment. She has been climbing about the trees at Glamis Castle, her maternal grandparents' home, hanging from the branches and frightening everybody.

It is doubtful whether she is aware of the role that fate has destined for her, although she has known for some years that she is not like other girls.

It is said that she used to be quite a mischievous little girl—"bossy," in fact. It is said that she would fly into a tiny temper if doors were not opened immediately for the "Princess."

TAUGHT TO PUT DUTY FIRST

Now that she has entered her "double figures"—she was 10 on April 21, 1936—and, according to children's reckoning, "grown up," she is not so domineering. She is beginning to understand the motto which her mother taught her almost as soon as she could talk, namely "duty first, self second."

Apart from her parents, there are two persons she loves devotedly. One is her sister, whom she calls Margaret, and the other is her quaint-looking dog, a Welsh corgi named Dookie. Education forms an important part of her daily lessons.

Under Miss Crawford, the children's governess, and Elizabeth likes to practice reading Hans Andersen's fairy tales to an impressed audience of Princess Margaret and Dookie.

CALLED "EMPIRE'S SWEET-HEART"

Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Mary was born at the London home of her mother's parents, April 21, 1926. The first daughter of the present King and Queen, she was almost immediately labelled "The Empire's Sweetheart." In the few years since then she has made her mark on the world. Ships, engines, hospitals, stamps, flowers, colours, clothes—almost everything that can be named—have been named after her.

She is the leader of children's fashions. When the Queen dressed her in yellow, an uncommon colour for small girls, mothers throughout the world put their children in yellow. When Elizabeth appeared hatless in her baby carriage, thousands of mothers at once threw away bonnets and hats.

HAS LARGE MOUTH

Elizabeth has been described as "the sweetest looking baby in the world." In infancy she had bright blue eyes and a mass of light golden curls. She has grown rather plain since then, a large mouth detracting from her otherwise regular features, and the curl has almost disappeared from her hair. But she has the expressive eyes of her mother, and a sweet smile that lights up her face.

Her photographs show a remarkable likeness to Queen Mary.

In her babyhood, up to about 5, there were many stories about her; how she played tea parties with Gwan'na (Queen Mary), or bricks with Gwan'pa (King George), or best of all "horses" on the henrith rug with Uncle David, (ex-King-Edward).

DOES WITH "UNCLE HENRY"

There are not so many of them now, but birthdays still are a great event. Last April "Uncle David" gave her a riding crop with the initial "E" in silver. She recently started to learn to ride on her father's little pony, Peggy. She often carries with "Uncle Henry" (the Duke of Gloucester) in Windsor Park.

Elizabeth and Margaret Rose spend much time in their own private gardens at Windsor, and are great pals of the gardener. Their favourite toy is a miniature house—not a doll's house—a present to Elizabeth from the Principality of Wales. They can just about get inside it, and often give tea parties to their dolls and friends there. Once, Queen Mary was invited to squeeze her way inside.

STRICT ROUTINE FOLLOWED

Elizabeth follows a fairly strict daily programme. She is called by her nurse at 7 a.m. Has her bath and dresses herself, and has breakfast in the nursery with Margaret Rose.

After breakfast, at 8 a.m., they both visit their parents to bid them "good morning." Lessons in the schoolroom begin at 9 a.m., and last from an hour and a half to two hours.

Then comes a break from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., during which Elizabeth plays with her sister in the garden, or rides her pony, or goes to see Dookie. She has been taught to look after the dog herself, and is particular about his food and his health.

PRINCESS NOT ISOLATED

Luncheon is at 1 p.m., followed by more lessons. These are usually taken with other little girls of her own age usually children of neighbouring society folk. The King and Queen do not believe in isolating her altogether in her education. The children usually have team lessons, such as dancing, or drill. Games till tea-time at 4 p.m. follow.

Sometimes Elizabeth accompanies her mother to afternoon engagements, but these "treats" are not encouraged as yet. Sometimes there is a routine of a visit to the circus.

After tea there are optional lessons, elocution, a chat with the French mistress, but more often a romp with the dogs—Margaret Rose has a Corgi, too, and there are also a Labrador and a Tibetan lion-dog.

GOES TO BED AT 8

Bed-time is always 8 p.m., and no plea or argument can budge it. Elizabeth is learning to play the piano, has tried her hand at cooking and can make pastry. Her lessons consist of the usual three "R's"—reading, writing and arithmetic.

History and geography receive special attention. French, needlework, dancing, deportment and elocution are other subjects.

At present Elizabeth rides astride and she is said to have a good balance, a good pair of hands and a knee grip. When she grows older, however, she will have to ride side-saddle, which her mother and Queen Mary think more seemly.

On her 21st birthday, the Princess will become eligible to an income of £25,000 a year from the state.

WON'T YOU HELP THESE HUNGRY BABIES? CHRISTMAS APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE OF HONGKONG

With all its time-hallowed joy, Christmas brings for all of us at some time a breath of sadness. In all homes there will be, sooner or later, the empty chair.

But it is a gentle grief when the missing face is of one who has lived long, has seen his or her children grow to ripe years and has shared the Christmas joy with those children's children. Such have won through to an earned rest.

The empty chair, yes; But what of the empty cradle? Some of our readers will have known friends stricken with the bewildering grief of a dead child, medical skill powerless, the end not preventable.

There is no greater sadness than the loss of a child's life when all that can be done to save it has been done.

There is no sterner tragedy than when this happens without need. There is no sadder indictment of a community than that this may happen rarely, not as a sudden visitation, but as a matter of course and without need.

The social charity of Eastern lands is known.

We are told that none who have struggled through infancy need starve where others have food. Usage will find rice for them.

But the solid foods within the reach of the poverty-stricken; unemployed or beggar parents are for the infant equivalent to a death sentence or, the servitude of a maimed life.

We appeal specially to women to help us so that other women shall not see their children die.

ARSENAL RECOVERY COMPLETE: NOW HEAD TABLE

SMASHING CHRISTMAS DAY VICTORY

CHAMPIONS FALTER, BUT BRENTFORD MOVE UP

EVERTON SCORE SEVEN GOALS

Arsenal yesterday made complete their remarkable recovery in the first division of the English Football League—a recovery which started some five weeks ago. They defeated Preston North End at Highbury by four goals to one, and with Sunderland losing by two clear goals to lowly-placed Birmingham, went to the head of the table.

Brentford also tightened up their challenge for the leadership by taking two points from the Wednesday, while Charlton lost but a little valuable ground in being held to a goalless draw. Arsenal, Sunderland, Brentford and Charlton are now bunched together at the top of the table with only a single point separating the teams.

Scoring in the first division was high. Everton rattled on seven goals against Derby, while Grimsby bagged five of the eight goals in their match with Manchester City, and Leeds walloped Middlesbrough by five clear goals.

Leicester went nay against Barnsley in the second division, but the best performance was that of Tottenham who went to Blackburn and won four-nil.

Luton improved their standing in the third division (South) by taking points from Notts County, their nearest rivals, Brighton and Watford sharing the spoils.

HOLIDAY RUGBY IN ENGLAND

Results Of Four Matches

London, Dec. 25. Four important rugby matches were played to-day. Swansea beat the Watsonians by 17 points to five, while Neath were too good for London Welsh and won 15 to six. Edinburgh Academicals received London Scottish, and a closely fought game finished in favour of the London Scottish by six points to three. Aberavon were too strong for Mountain Ash and won by 20 points to three.—Reuter.

The winners were well served by Arculli at back, O. M. Omar in the pivotal position and Hamet at right half.

Of the forwards the inside trio, Azim, Hussain and A. M. Omar combined well and treated the spectators to some good football.

For the Kumaon Rifles, Lt. Tomlinson at centre-half played a sparkling game while Partap their left wing was their outstanding forward.

Mr. Leo Frost, former champion jockey of the Colony, who finished fourth in the list this season, largely owing to the fact that he was out of racing for some time owing to an operation.

Christmas Day Football

KUMAON RIFLES BEATEN

A very large crowd of spectators witnessed a thrilling and fast game of soccer at Chatham Road when a team of local Indians met the Kumaon Rifles yesterday and won by four goals to two.

Mr. R. M. Omar had charge of the game. The Kumaon Rifles played with brilliant combination and for the first ten minutes had the local Indians tied up in knots. Eventually the civilians settled down to some pretty bouts of passing between Azim, Hussain and A. M. Omar and from a breakaway Omar shot for goal, the goalkeeper partially saving the shot, Hussain followed by netting easily.

Immediately after Hussain hit the crossbar with a shot that had the goalkeeper beaten, Omar met the rebound and netted. At half time the local Indians were leading by two goals to nil. After the break, Azim made a spectacular run to beat the goalie with a good shot. Singh reduced the lead for the Kumaons but after a few minutes play Azim again netted. Shortly before the end Partap scored from a penalty kick.

High Standard Of Racing

MR. BLACK LEADING JOCKEY

(By "Captain Foster")

The Hongkong Jockey Club brought their season to a close last Saturday at the Happy Valley and we shall not have any more flat racing until February 20. It may be safely said that in view of the depression a very successful racing year has been enjoyed, while a vote of thanks is deserving to the Stewards and Officials of the Club for discharging their duties to the entire satisfaction of the public.

There were actually, including the Annual Meeting, 20 days of racing and all the events were keenly contested. Mr. Clerk of the Weather was not too kind at the Annual Carnival, but all the Extra Meetings, especially after the recess, were held under ideal conditions. There was certainly marked improvement in the attendance towards the end of the season.

Racing on the whole was of very high standard with plenty of thrills and exciting finishes. The statistics which I have compiled for the year under review reveal some interesting figures, such as a complete list of jockeys including the Macao races, the amount of stakes won by various ponies and course records established during the season.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. D. Black upon heading the list of jockeys with 27 wins, 25 seconds, 14 thirds and 68 unplaced outgoings. It is worthy of note that out of 134 starts, he was placed 66 times, representing about 49 per cent, which is a good performance. Mr. H. C. Pih, who was leading during the first half, finished behind the champion with 24 wins, 22 seconds, 19 thirds and 70 unplaced outgoings, while Mr. Deitz is the third best rider with 23 wins, 18 seconds, 15 thirds and 61 unplaced runners.

How the jockeys fared

JOCKEY SHORTAGE BADLY FELT

But Northern Riders Helped Things Out

A shortage of jockeys was badly felt when Messrs. W. H. S. Davis and L. Ralph could not turn out at the Annual Carnival owing to a nasty spell over the sticks at Easing while Mr. Leo Frost was operated on for appendicitis after the big meeting. We were lucky enough to have Messrs. S. C. Liang (Tientsin) and H. M. Pih (Shanghai) and these two jockeys have been a great help to the owners.

Mr. Norman Deitz was seen at his best when he piloted four winners to victory including a "hat trick" at the Second Extra Meeting held on March 20, while Mr. H. C. Pih's sequence of three winners at Macao on November 29 was the result of his sound judgment of pace.

It is interesting to relate that no jockey has this season ridden the first and second legs of the "daily double" event, while last year there were three. Many apprentices rode their maiden race during the season while Messrs. C. F. Chiu, Choy Wing-chiu, C. L. Gregory and K. L. Ip broke their "debut" on Mayflower, Plain View, Wadbridge and Merry Jester respectively. Messrs. W. H. S. Davis and F. F. Li emerged from the novice class and the latter registered his first win in "black letters" on Soldier of Peace to pay the biggest dividend of the year.

STRATHROY'S RECORD ENDS SEASON ON HIGH NOTE

Reference was made in this column to Strathroy's close shave in the Australian St. Leger and I remember saying that Mr. Black would be well advised not to ease off his mount until the beacon "W. P." had been crossed. Last Saturday the jockey took no chance with Strathroy in the Queensland Autumn Champions and Mr. Macgregor's pony captured the classic event in record time of 2:10.4/5, lowering Able Amazon's figure by two four-fifths seconds.

"CAPTAIN FOSTER" BEGINS HIS REVIEW OF THE 1936 RACING SEASON

TO-DAY we publish the first part of "Captain Foster's" comprehensive review of Hongkong's 1936 racing season which closed last Saturday. The review is of special interest containing as it does statistics and facts concerning the most important events and achievements of the year. The second and concluding part of the review will be published next week.

Standard Much Improved

DERBY GRIFFINS

Although there was a marked decrease in the number of Derby griffins, the standard of these ponies was, by far, superior to any of the previous years and the inclusion of Benar Claw, Honeymoon Eve and Royal Scot for their maiden season in the "A" class justified the views of the classification sub-committee. There were altogether 22 griffins and Benar, Estray and Splendid View were the only three that could not earn a cent. The Club paid out $33,425 to the balance, the list being made up as follows:

Pony	Stakes
Amberley	$1,225
Bear Claw	4,675

ABOUT BEAR CLAW

HISTORY OF A FINE PONY

MANY SPLENDID VICTORIES

Bear Claw has a nice little biography, but of course space does not permit anything complete. After winning the Maiden Stakes, this bay gelding of Mrs. Dunbar ran unplaced in the Hongkong Derby, and succumbed to Royal Scot in the American Club Cup. He was not amount the first three in the St. George's Plate while after annexing the Kellet Handicap "C" class in easy fashion on Easter Monday, he was promoted to "B" class. At his next outing he defeated Mr. Donald Black and it was at the first meeting after the recess that Bear Claw (Mr. Davis) came out of the rack too late and was nosed out by his stable companion Mistake Bay. His next venture after parsing the winning post first was disqualification for bumping and boring; but the real element of Mrs. Dunbar's luck started on October 24 when her charger won the Wyndham Handicap "B" class with perfect ease beating King's Lead and some good "B" steeds. His next running was an eye opener in the Hongkong Griffins Cup over the champion course in easy style, and as a result, the Classification Sub-Committee promoted the pony to "A" class.

ROSE EVELYN GOOD & BAD

LAST WEEK'S FAILURE

Mr. Eu Tong-sen's Rose Evelyn did not suffer a defeat at the Annual (Continued on Page 9.)

He was at his best in his subsequent outing when he captured the coveted St. Leger for the popular lady-owner and it was not a disgrace to Bear Claw to be beaten last Saturday by King's Warden after one of the best champions races seen at the Valley. He lost the classic by only a head. Honeymoon Eve, who heads the list with a sum of $5,215 to her credit, did not reproduce her big meeting's form, while Royal Scot was an absentee during the second half racing season. It will be seen that both Bear Claw and King's Lead made over 4,000 shekels while the latter added another St. Andrew's Cup to Mr. Pearce's fine collection of racing trophies.

CHINA'S QUEST FOR INTERNATIONAL CHARITY CUP: ATTEMPT TO WIN IT THREE TIMES STRAIGHT

PLAYING ENGLAND THIS AFTERNOON

PORTUGAL IS PRACTICALLY CERTAIN TO REACH FINAL

(By "Veritas")

This afternoon China starts on a quest, never yet achieved by any team, of winning the International Charity Cup Competition for the third year in succession. Her task, never very simple, is not made easier by the fact that the team will be without six of South China Athletic's leading players. In addition China has had the misfortune to draw England at the first time of asking, a side, which on paper at any rate, is about the strongest in the Competition.

This promises to be the better of the two matches which constitute to-day's football programme. China and England meet on the Club ground, while over the other side of the harbour, Portugal, fielding a very good representative team, opposes Wales, who for some obscure reason have turned out a comparatively poor eleven.

NOT STRONGEST XI

China has by no means her strongest team on view, but it is formidable enough to lead one to anticipate England's defeat. The team is splendidly balanced with seasoned players such as Lee Tin-sang, Mok Sui-hon and Leung Wing-chai in defence and less experienced but enterprising and energetic youngsters such as Lai Shui-wing, Lam Tak-po and Chan Yu-tin.

All the same England's team makes a pretty good comparison. There does not appear to be a single weakness, the defence being particularly well endowed with talent. Swain and Wolverson are two of the best European full backs in the Colony, and though Biles may not be the ideal choice for centre-half, there is small room for complaint concerning England's intermediate line. Both North and Strange on the flanks are brilliant in their obstructive work, and the China wingers will have no easy task getting round them.

I would not say that England's attack looks quite so good as China's, but it is full of possibilities. Individually there is nothing wrong with it, but one wonders whether the players will settle down quickly enough into a cohesive force.

In this respect China starts off with something of an advantage, for the players are known fairly well to each other and possess a good working knowledge of one another's peculiarities and how to make best use of them.

It should be a race match, but I think China will just about win.

PORTUGAL MUST WIN

It will come as a great surprise if Portugal does not qualify for the final. Wales has a second-rate team out for the match, while Portugal is fielding about the strongest combination available.

Take a look at that half back line, Beltrao on the right, A. V. Gossao in the middle and Delgado on the left. I imagine it will take something more than Wales' third division attack to overcome such a trio.

With Bernie Gossao leading the attack there is every indication that Portugal will score goals, and with Souza and Costa in the rear guard there seems very little chance of Portugal conceding many goals.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that both matches are of 90 minutes duration, and both start at 3.30. China and England occupy the Club ground and Portugal and Wales meet on the Kowloon F.C. enclosure.

CHARITY FOOTBALL

China To Meet Rest In Aid Of Refuge Fund

A charity football match in aid of the Suiyuan Refuge Fund will be played on New Year's Day when China will meet The Rest on the Caroline Hill ground, kick-off at 3.30 p.m.

The following players have been selected to represent The Rest: Kowlands (R.W. Fus.), T. Cpl. Swain (E.L.), A. V. Gossao (Rec.), R. North (Police), N. Beltrao (Rec.), W. Taylor (R.W. Fus.), Erwin (R.U.R.), J. Flemming (Club), D. Knox (Kowloon), A. Wilson (Club), and Bickford (Club).

PERRY'S OFFER

Hollywood, Dec. 24. Fred Perry, the famous English tennis player who recently turned professional, has offered to coach Great Britain's 1937 Davis Cup team, to "pay the debt I owe."

SMALL LEAGUE SCHEDULE

SOME MATCHES TO-MORROW

FUSILIERS' BIG OPPORTUNITY

(By "Veritas")

With the International Charity Cup taking precedence in to-day's soccer programme, the league schedule is naturally restricted.

Two senior division matches have been arranged for to-morrow, while there are four second division ties and three in the third division.

Fusiliers will be given an opportunity of emulating Eastern's example of last week and lowering the colours of South China "B". And rather fancy the soldiers will do it. They are playing very well just now, and as the match is at Sockun-poo, they will possess a certain amount of ground advantage.

Navy receive Eastern, and this should provide a most entertaining match. For Eastern are definitely a promising team, while Navy, though suffering the loss of several players, is still in the position to turn out a very powerful side.

It wouldn't surprise to see Eastern follow up their achievement of last week with another victory to-morrow, but the most likely result is a draw.

Fusiliers, Royal Engineers, Ulster Rifles and Navy are probable second division winners, while St. Joseph's, Liga and Chinese Police ought to collect third division spoils.

Week-End Football Programme

FULL LIST OF FIXTURES

"CAPTAIN FOSTER'S" RACING REVIEW

Carnival, but, the mare failed to strike her form on three occasions among her own class.

Rose Evelyn was a bad lady at the barrier last Saturday, for after having unseated the jockey before the start she lashed out and caught Mr. Deltz on the thigh. The jockey remounted, but, I am inclined to believe that the pain was too much for him to put his heart in the race.

This mare earned for the lucky owner $3,400 against an initial cost of not exceeding $500 while Wild Cat of Mr. Li Lau-sang was the second best sub, winning $4,253. Gold Sovereign collected $2,700 for Mr. Li Tse-fong. It will be observed from the list that there were ten ponies over the thousand dollar mark.

THEY PROVIDED GREAT FUN

China Ponies

As in the past the China ponies subscription griffins gave us a lot of fun, but, owing to the heavy state of the going at the Annual Race Meeting, punters had no difficulty in spotting the winners and there were really no upsets during the first half racing season. ## J. W. HEARNE RETIRES

ANOTHER OF CRICKET'S GREAT ALL-ROUNDERS

J. W. Hearne, at his own wish, is retiring from M.C.C. staff on account of business reasons. It is understood that he is taking up the building trade. He ended his connection with Middlesex last season.

Hearne first went to Lord's in 1900 and, nominated by Middlesex, he was engaged on the M.C.C. regular staff in 1910. He was then 19, and Middlesex were soon convinced they had found a prize. That August, against Essex at Lord's, he bowled five overs and one ball after lunch, taking seven wickets for two runs.

He made three trips to Australia and also visited West Indies and South Africa.

FIRST-CLASS UMPIRES FOR 1937
The captains of the first-class counties, meeting at Lord's recently chose the following 23 umpires to stand in first-class matches during next season: J. Hardstaff (Nottinghamshire), D. Hendren (Middlesex and Durham), G. M. Lee (Derbyshire), H. W. Lee (Middlesex), J. Newman (Hampshire), T. Oates (Nottinghamshire), C. W. L. Parker (Gloucestershire), A. Reeves (Essex), E. Robinson (Yorkshire), A. Steadman (Leicestershire), J. Smart (Warwickshire), E. J. Smith (Warwickshire), C. V. Tarbock (Worcestershire), F. Walden (Northamptonshire), and C. N. Woolley (Northamptonshire).

The newcomers to the list are Robinson, Smart and Tarbock, though Tarbock umpired many matches last year owing to the resignations of J. W. Hilt (Surrey) and W. R. Perry (Devon) and the death of A. Morton (Derbyshire). Those omitted from last season are G. Brown (Hampshire) and A. E. Dipper (Gloucestershire).

PERRY SETS POSER FOR TENNIS CHIEFS

THE Lawn Tennis Association, august governing body of British lawn tennis, is facing its most awkward predicament. It cannot find a No. 1 player for Britain.

And the cause of all the trouble, who has defeated F. H. D. that Fred Perry has retired. And C. E. Hare, Britain's other top amateur tennis player, leaving a bigtop-rank player's gap to be filled by selectors of the But Lee has decided he has spent enough time on tennis and must give up the game.

"We have plenty of good second and third rank players," said an official to the Sunday Chronicle. "But no man can replace Fred Perry. He is going to take some finding."

Perry's genius for tennis makes British team brought the cup to the quest all the harder. His skill Britain and kept it here during the dash made him the acknowledged world champion.

NEXT YEAR'S FIGHT
Most likely successor was H. G. N. know.

New "Test" For Bradman

WHEN the stumps have been drawn and the crowds have gone and the world has settled down to read the reports of the second Test match in Sydney—Bradman and Allen, the rival captains, will be fighting another battle.

For Don Bradman, recent winner of a squash rackets contest in Adelaide, has challenged G. O. Allen to a match. Since his challenge Bradman has seen Allen playing with R. W. V. Robins, who finds it a splendid way of keeping fit while nursing his injured finger.

And what he saw induced Don to ask for six points start out of nine in each game.

Even with this handicap experts think Allen will win the squash rackets rubber for England.

ARSENAL SIGN WIZARD OF 15

A 15-year-old Scottish boy, a football wizard has been secretly signed on by the famous Arsenal club.

Although he will not be eligible to sign professional forms or play for the club for two years this boy has been added to the ground staff at Highbury.

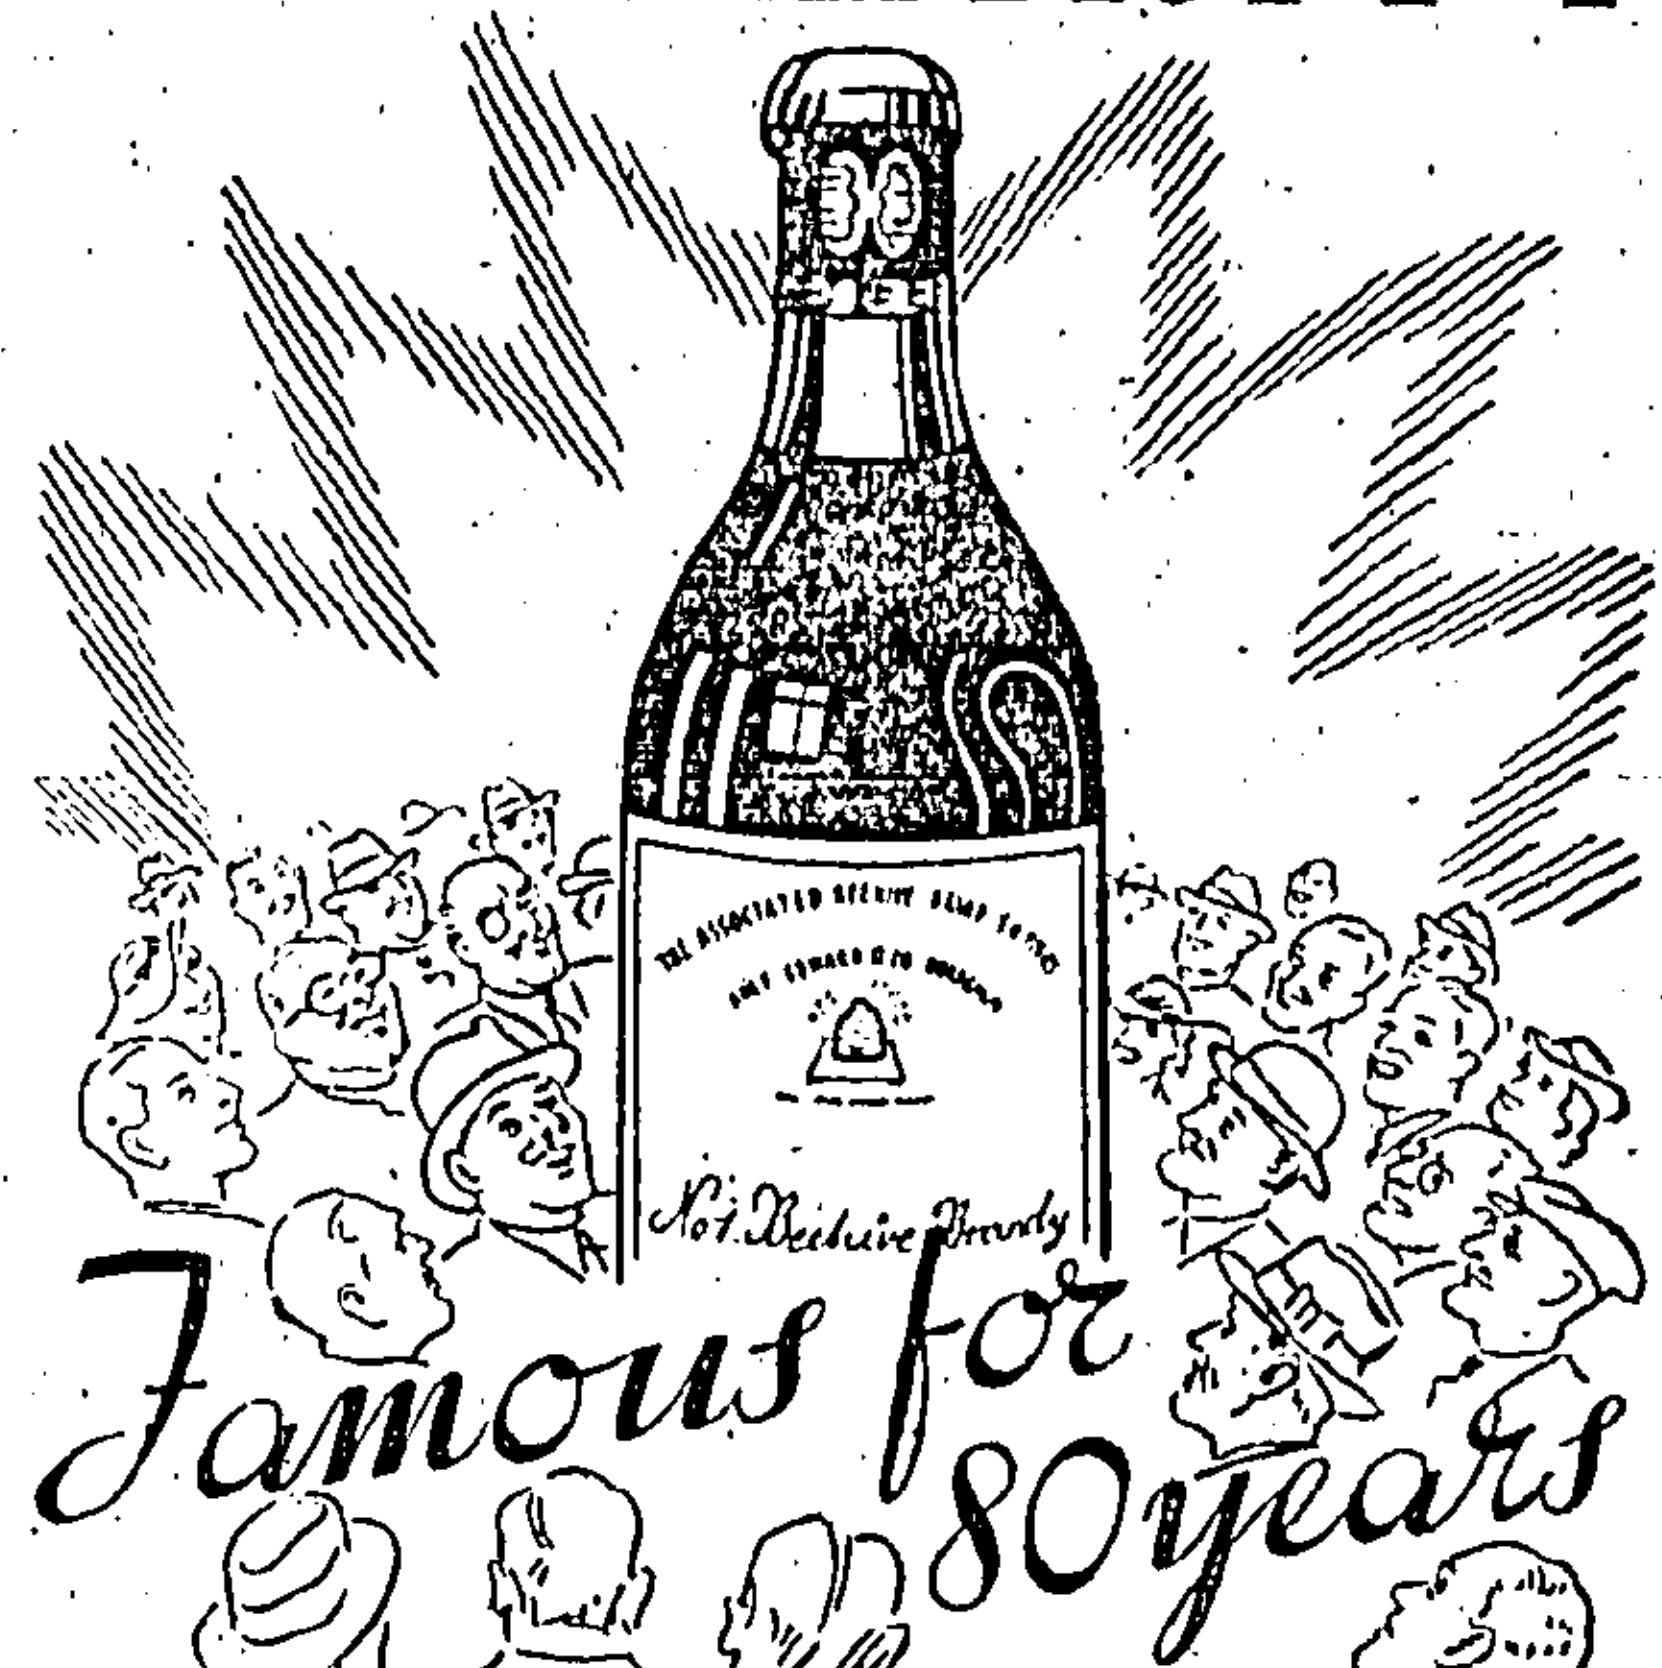

He is Louis Delaney, of Spindle-Jewee-road, Uddingston, who earned five cup badges and a county cap as a pupil at St. John's R.C. School, Uddingston.

So that Louis will not be deprived of home influence during his football apprenticeship, the entire Delaney family has been removed to London.

Arsenal scouts who saw the boy play in a Wimbledon works team in London were so fascinated by his game that they approached his parents in Uddingston.

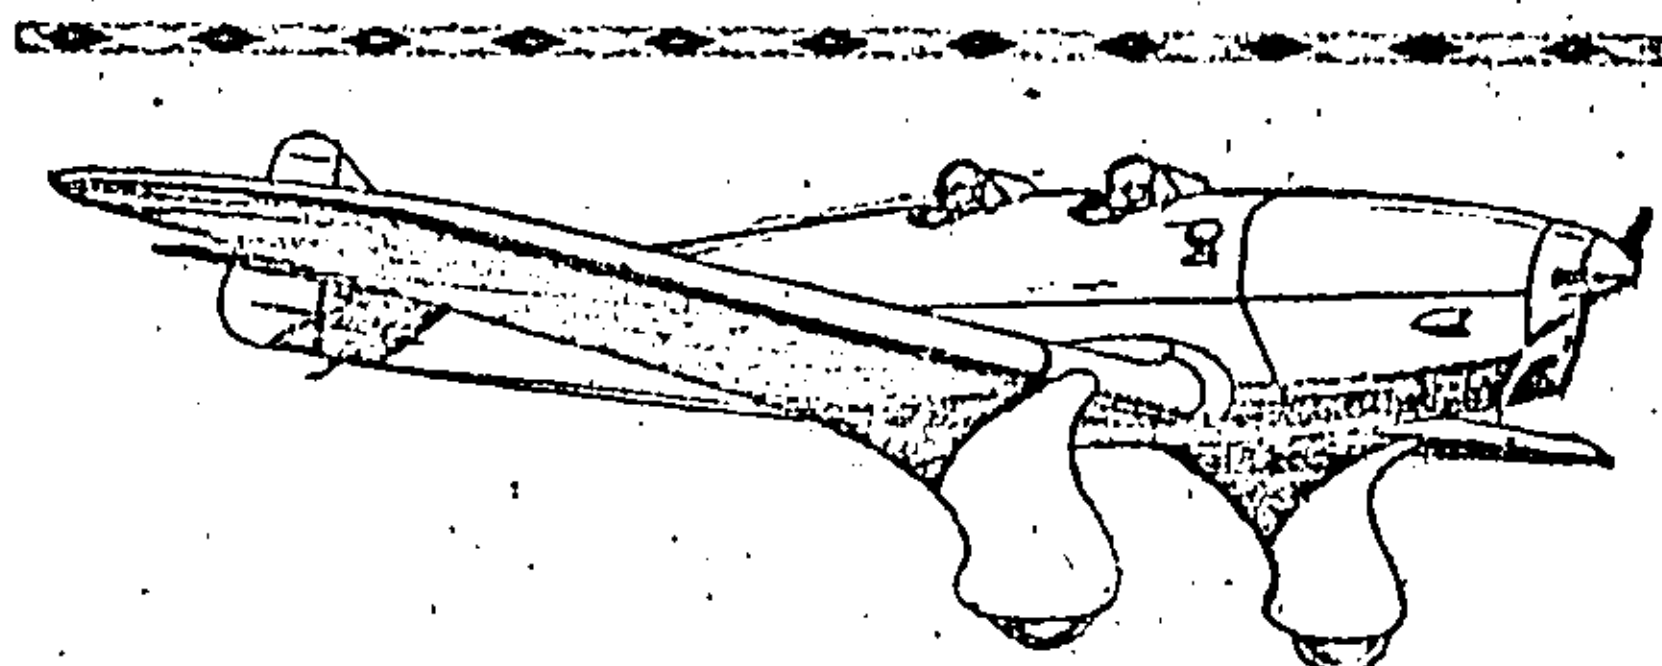

Rather than risk losing him at a later date they found him the job on the ground staff, where he will remain until he can don the Arsenal colours.

JUBILEE SERVICE

COPIES OF THE HISTORIC PAINTING FOR SALE

The Colonial Secretary has forwarded a copy of a brochure on the painting, entitled "The Heart of the Empire," which was executed for his late Majesty, King George V, and Queen Mary, by Mr. Frank O. Salisbury, and is being copied to aid King George's Jubilee Trust.

The painting is of the Jubilee Service of Thanksgiving held in St. Paul's Cathedral on May 6, 1935, and is the official commemoration of the historic occasion to be hung in Buckingham Palace. Queen Mary has already inspected the finished painting.

By the direction of King George, the sale and distribution of reproductions have been entrusted to The Times, London. All profits accruing will be handed over to the Jubilee Trust.

The actual painting is 12 ft. by 8 ft. and has been executed on a point near the organ in St. Paul's, a little above the eye level of the congregation. As a result Mr. Salisbury has been able to give the figures of the Royal Family the prominence required and also to show the heads of the farthest figures, which would have been concealed if the scene had been painted from eye level. The north-west view adopted brings both nave and the north transept into perspective, involving some difficult architectural drawing which has been managed with skill.

Actual Portraits
No fewer than 75 of the figures in the great assembly are actual portraits, and for them careful drawings in black and white were made from life.

The Times reproduction of "The Heart of the Empire" is available in two printings, one in colotype full colour, 30 in. by 19½ in. signed by the artist and numbered with key print in black and white, at £5. 5s. (freight 1s. overseas) and the other in photogravure full colour, the same size, with key print, at £1. 1s. (postage 1s. overseas). The first printing is only a limited edition.

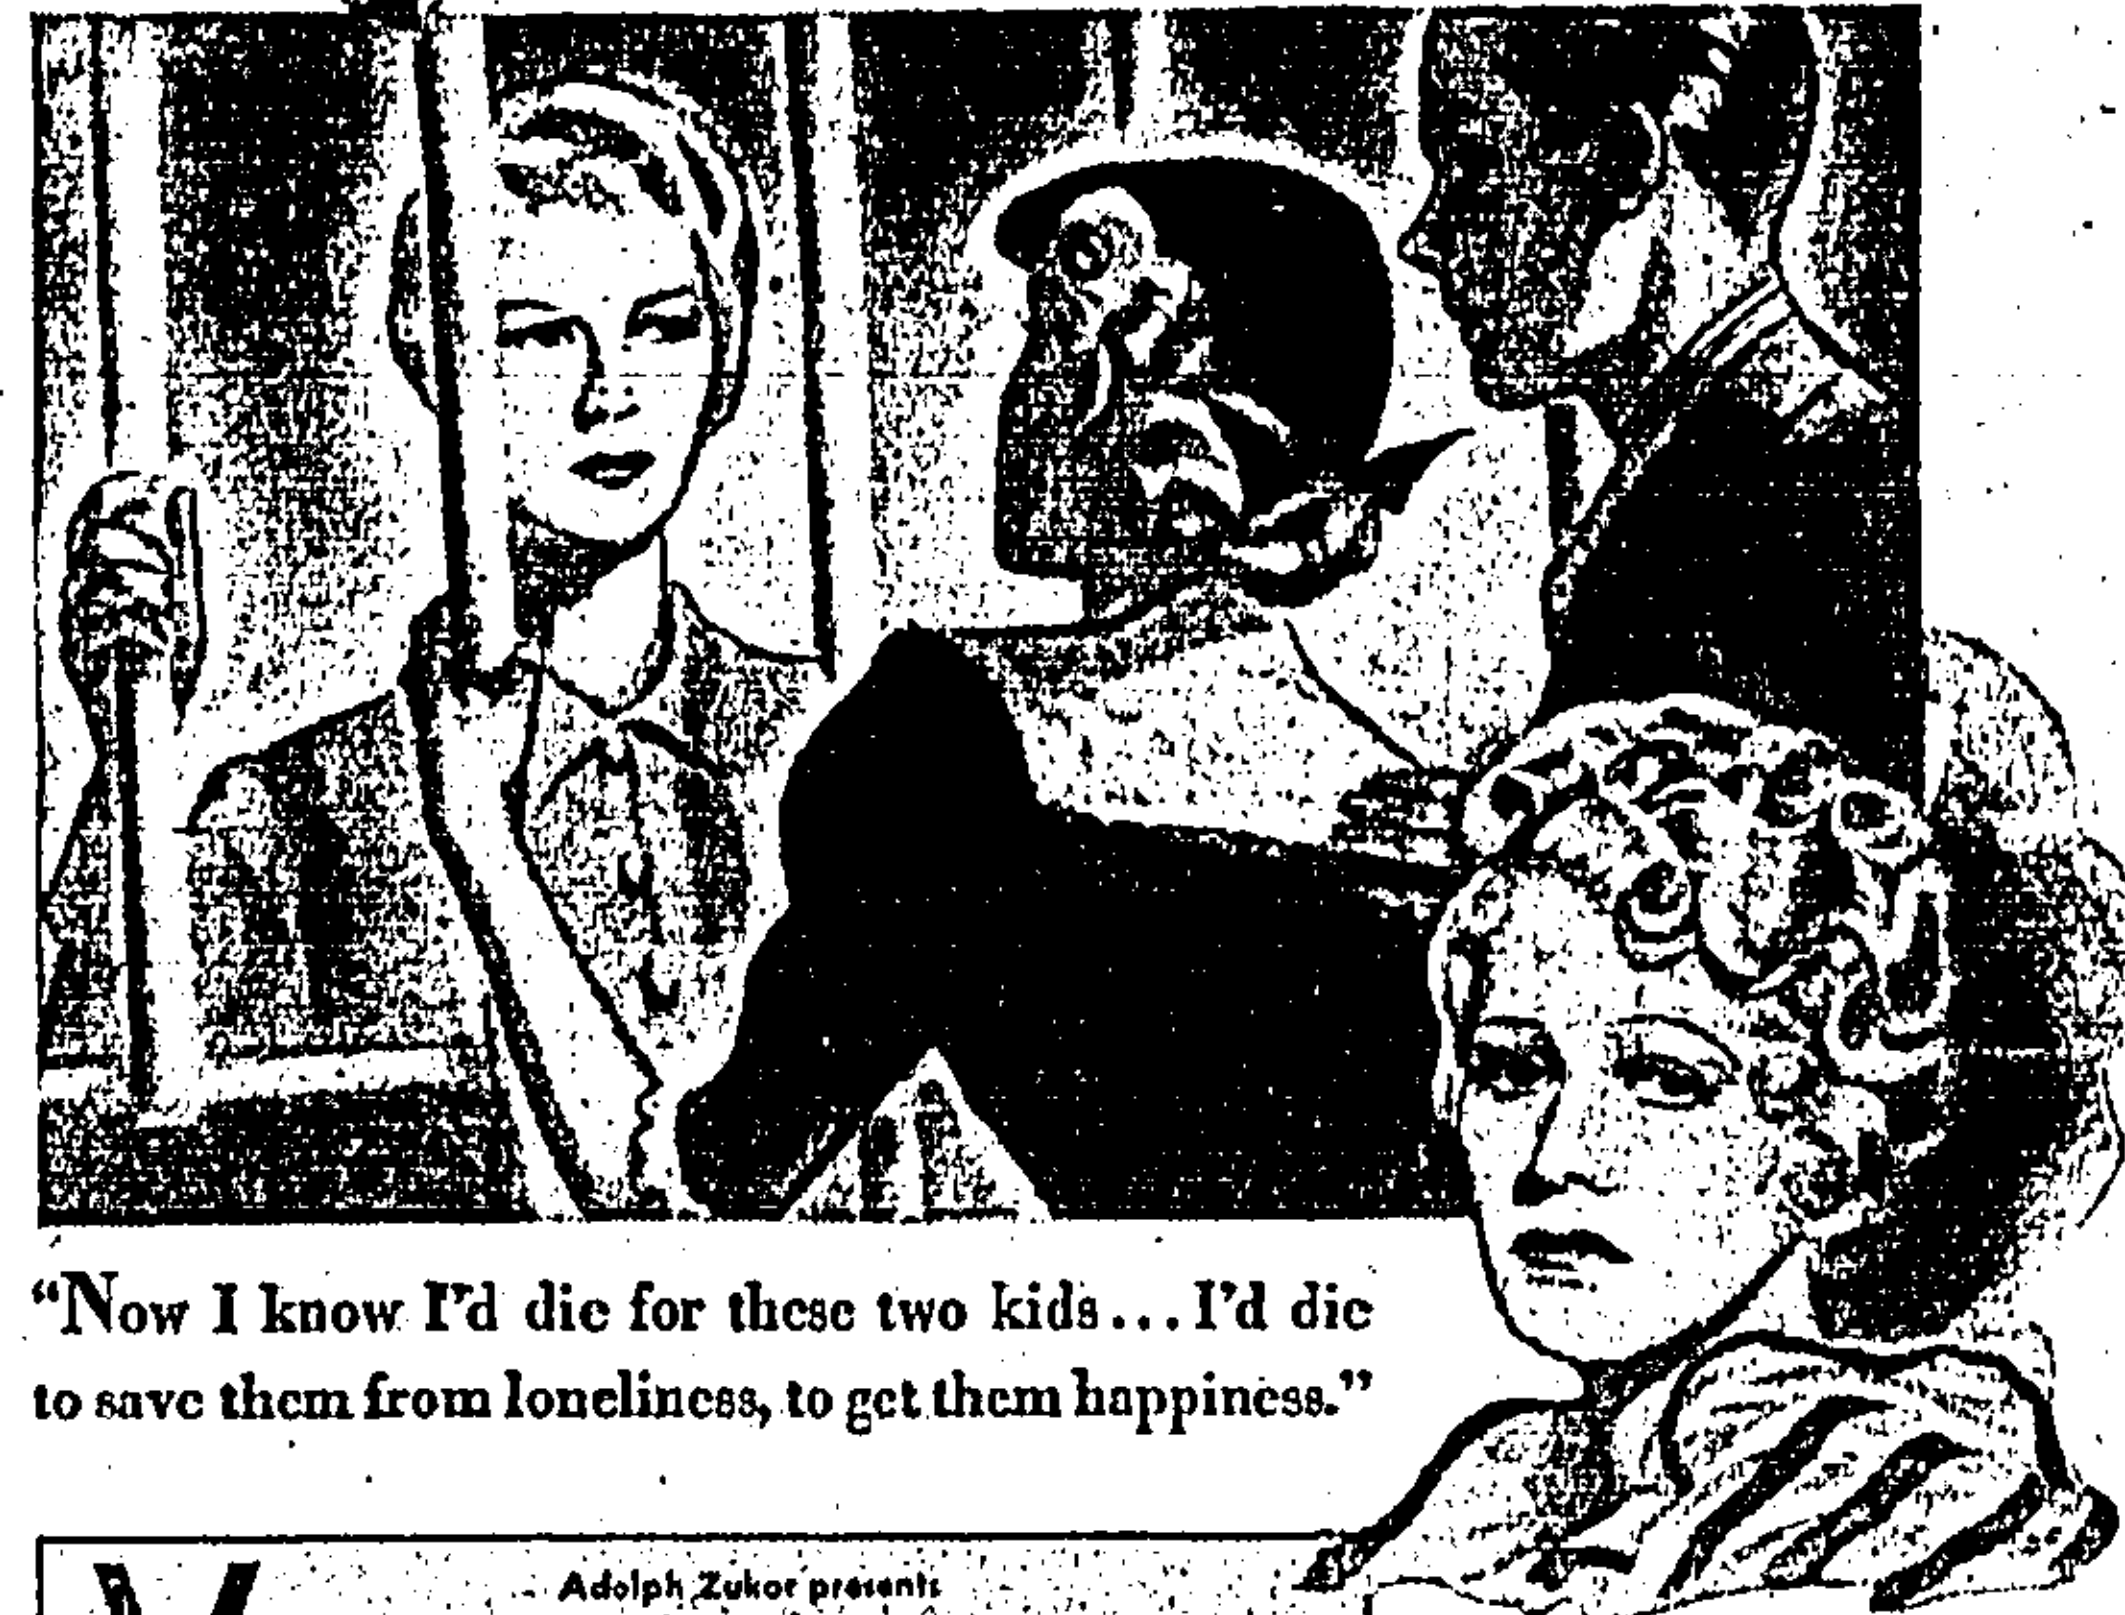

Mr. Salisbury is a member of the Royal Society of Portrait Painters and has painted several portraits of the Royal Family and prominent world figures. Among his principal historical subjects are "Princess Mary's Wedding" at Buckingham Palace, the "Burial of the Unknown Warrior" in the House of Commons, and "John Travers Cornwell, V.C., in the Battle of Jutland."

Notice has been given of the forthcoming wedding between Mr. Ronald William Danby, assistant, Union Insurance Society of Canton, Ltd., residing at 600, P. Colle, Manila, and Miss Frances Mary Black, of 2707, Wolfe Street, Calgary, Canada. Mr. Danby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Danby, of Hongkong.

CINEMA NOTES

Using an Egyptian locale for most of the picture's setting instead of their customary American background, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey hit a new comedy high in "Mummy's Boys," their latest picture for RKO Radio, which is showing to-day at the Queen's Theatre. As a couple of amateur excavators who give up their job of digging ditches in the Bronx in favour of digging up tombs on the Nile, the two Kings of Cackinut have evolved one of the funniest pictures of the screen career. Their production is linked up with a steamship collision, stealthy Orientals and a deep-laid murder mystery. Barbara Pepper supplies the heart interest as the daughter of one of the scientists on the expedition to the tomb of Pharaoh Pharoah and Frank M. Thomas and Moroni Olsen do excellently as the two archaeologists. Willie Best, Mitchell Lewis and Francis McDonald head the supporting cast of this hilariously entertaining film, which Fred Guiol has directed in a manner that takes full advantage of its many laugh-provoking situations. Le Marcus produced the picture, the nineteenth co-starring Wheeler and Woolsey have turned out during the last six years. Lew Lipton and Jack Towles wrote the original story, and Townley, Philip G. Epstein and Charles Roberts the screen play.

"Our Relations"

New laurels and added renown for Laurel and Hardy in celebration of their tenth anniversary as the foremost comedy team on the screen! They've enacted dual roles for the first time in a full-length feature and the result is unquestionably their greatest laugh hit in their most elaborate production. Their inimitable whimsical pantomime and deft fantasy is superbly performed in the artistic background of "Our Relations," showing to-day at the King's Theatre. "Our Relations," based on "The Money Box," written by England's foremost short-story teller, W. W. Jacobs, serves as an ideal vehicle for the film comes. It is a Stan Laurel production. The setting for their current production is as much more elaborate and realistic than preceding featuring comedies from Roach studios that favourable notice is merited. The original and palatial pirate ship cafe, the picturesque ancient wooden vessel, and the weather-beaten deck and air-outstanding in artistic background value. The innovation of having Harry Lachman, internationally established as a painter and creator of spectacles, direct Laurel and Hardy proved highly successful in producing something entirely out of the ordinary in feature comedy. The supporting cast in "Our Relations" is excellent in characterization and performance. Alan Hale, as the waiter; Sidney Toler, the ship's captain; Daphne Pollard and Betty Healy, the wives; James Finlayson, the engineer; Iris Adrian and Lona Andre, cafe girls; Ralf Harolde and Noel Madison, the gangsters, and Arthur Housman, the inebricated stroller, aid Laurel and Hardy in achieving their greatest screen triumph.

"Times Square Playboy"

One of the most delightfully comedy dramas of the season, "Times Square Playboy," a Warner Bros. production, will commence showing at the Star Theatre on Sunday. Adapted from the George M. Cohan Broadway stage hit, "Home Towners," the screen play preserves the real Cohanesque flavour, being packed with hilarious laughs, romance, some intense dramatic moments, sparkling dialogues and lively music. The picture is fast moving and holds the suspense to an amusing and surprising climax. Heading the cast is Warren William in the role of a small town boy who, after having made millions in the big city, becomes engaged to a night club entertainer. He is ably supported by Barton MacLane, temporarily released from his erstwhile gangster roles to play the part of William's valet, butler and athletic trainer. June Travis, the sprightly daughter of Harry Grabner, Vice President of the Chicago White Sox, has her second leading feminine role in this picture, her first being in "Cecilia Zero." That veteran of the stage, Gene Lockhart, has a difficult role, and proves adept in the art of giving true love and messing up the lives of others through his interference. He is ably assisted by his wife, Kathleen Lockhart, who also plays his spouse in the picture. Others who do excellent work include Dick Purcell as the brother of the bride, Granville Bates and Dorothy Vaughan in the role of a foot-bill here and the unsuccessful rival of William for the love of the beautiful night club singer.

CONSTIPATION ENDED FOR EVER

Woman Finds a Permanent Remedy

With perfect frankness a woman correspondent writes:
"I have suffered from constipation as long as I can remember, and taken all sorts of things—which in some cases seemed to do good at first, but afterwards to have no effect. Then I thought I would try Kruschen in my tea every morning, and I have done so for over a year. I am pleased to say after the first month I had no more trouble with constipation, and I have felt very fit."—(Mrs.) G. M. S.

Kruschen is the surest, safest, and most sensible way to keep your inside regular in its most important daily duty. You will find that your system never becomes hardened, but always submits to Kruschen's gentle and friendly power of persuasion. There will never be any need to increase the "daily dose."

And while Kruschen will be keeping you free from constipation, it will also be putting into your body the six mineral salts which Nature ordains as essential to health.

And the result? An end to all Life's minor ills and miseries. No more headaches, tiredness, depression, or "nerves."

THE TRAFFIC TOLL

FIFTY ACCIDENTS REPORTED DURING LAST WEEK

In the Colony of Hongkong including the Island, Kowloon and the New Territories during the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, the 19th instant, there were altogether 50 traffic accidents, as the result of which one person was killed and 20 persons were injured.

The person killed, a European motor cycle driver, died as the result of injuries received when his vehicle collided with a tree.

Of the persons injured, 13 were pedestrians, who were either walking or running across the road and were struck by vehicles.

One bus passenger and one tram-car passenger were injured whilst alighting from moving vehicles.

A cyclist was injured through falling from his vehicle whilst in motion. A private car passenger was injured when the vehicle collided with a tree.

Two lorry passengers and one cyclist were injured as the result of collisions between vehicles.

Of the 50 accidents, 24 were collisions between vehicles; 15 were collisions between vehicles and pedestrians; and 11 accidents were due to other causes.

Vehicles involved in the accidents were as follows:

Type of Vehicles	Nos. of accidents
Private Motor Car	21
Motor Lorry	13
Public Motor Car	2
Motor Bus	7
Motor Cycle	1
Tramcar	1
Tricycle	4
Bicycle	1

Fall from Tramcar

made. Nothing like it has been seen before and it will set a new standard for film production the world over. It is a marvel of technical achievement and an equal triumph for the author and the producer, Alexander Korda. Harrowing scenes of warfare, the destruction of the world we know to-day and the reconstruction of an amazing new one are unfolded with a dramatic impressiveness which marks the picture as an unforgettable experience. It would have been impossible to create this astounding, awe-inspiring spectacle without the aid of brilliant technicians, and no praise is too high for their work. They have succeeded in making miracles appear practical and credible. Outstanding among a very sound cast are Raymond Massey in the leading role, Ralph Richardson, Margaretta Scott and Edward Chapman. The director, W. Cameron Menzies, has treated the immense theme with the touch of a master, and must reap unbounded satisfaction from the knowledge that he has played a prominent part in making screen history. If you miss this picture you will regret it, for its like may not be seen again.

BIG LOCAL ESTATES

MR. R. M. DYER LEAVES NEARLY HALF MILLION

The late Mr. Robert Morton Dyer, former Chief Manager of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd., who died at Beck Road, Witherslack, County of Westmorland, on May 27 last, left local estate amounting to $449,000. An application by Mr. R. A. Wadson, solicitor, the lawful attorney, for sealing certified copy of confirmation (nominate) of the executors, has been granted.

The Rev. C. H. Dyer, Mr. J. F. Dyer, brothers of deceased, and Mr. C. L. Jones, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, London, were appointed executors of the estate.

Local estate worth $107,000 was left by the late Mr. Li Yuk-tong, alias Li Yuen, the well-known merchant and philanthropist, who died at the Young Wo Hospital, Happy Valley, on January 1 last. Probate of the will has been granted to Messrs. Li Tze-chung, Li Ping-chiu and Li Ping-piu.

Ups and Downs of Fortune

Leaving his property to be divided among his family, the late Mr. Li Yuk-tong stated in his will that during his life he had met with favourable and unfavourable circumstances which succeeded one after the other, like a vast sea which became a piece of cultivated land then turned into a vast sea again. He also recalled his revolutionary activities with the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, and the time when he was Finance Minister of Kwangtung.

"I have always," he said, "borne in mind the philosophical saying, 'Retreat when you have won success'—because a virtuous man should behave thus."

Formerly of Ivor Road, Sparkhill, Birmingham, the late Miss Mary McGregor, who died in Hongkong on January 9 last, left local estate valued at $3,100. An application by Mr. M. M. Watson, solicitor, the lawful attorney, for sealing letters of administration to the estate, has been granted.

On Boxing Night, the band of H.M.S. Diamond will give a selection of musical items at the Cicero Club, in the main lounge, commencing at 9 p.m. All Servicemen will be welcome.

The forthcoming wedding is announced of Mr. Robert Grant Pitts Weighon, missionary, Presbyterian Middle School, Tainan, Formosa, and Miss Agnes Laura Kinver, missionary, who is en route to the Colony per the Carthage.

Both Sides Willing To Negotiate

IN AMERICAN STRIKE DEADLOCK

San Francisco, Dec. 24.

The Joint Strike Committee, replying to Miss Frances Perkins' pleas for an early settlement of the maritime dispute, has accepted the Labour Ministry's suggestion for negotiation. However, the Committee charged ship-owners with making "vicious personal attacks and false publicity," thus confusing the issue and attempting to disrupt the unions.

The owners also telegraphed Miss Perkins, endorsing the suggestion that public interest demands an early peace. However, they blamed "subversive forces" for the failure of settlement negotiations, through "preventing a referendum" upon negotiated agreements with employees.

An International Seamen's Union spokesman asserts that Mr. Harry Bridges, Pacific strike leader, "repeatedly threatened additional strikes if Government agents fulfil their duty and enforce certain new laws." He was apparently referring to "continuous discharge books" under the acts relating to "safety at sea."—United Press.

Retaliation Urged By Red Russians

Moscow, Dec. 24.

Scientists, workers and aviators have appealed to the Government to despatch a punitive expedition against the Spanish Rightists in retaliation for the reported destruction of the Russian Komsonol.

The Government has declined to indicate its possible course of action, but it is believed that it is seeking joint action by Russia, Britain and France.—United Press.

Insurance Fund Surplus

£7,000,000 A YEAR AVAILABLE

London, Dec. 24.

The Unemployment Insurance Statutory Committee is at present examining the state of the Insurance Fund, and it is anticipated that a surplus of £7,000,000 a year will be found available for disposal.

Employment is good and the income of the Fund is consequently high and its expenditure relatively low.

Following its usual practice when a surplus is in view, the Statutory Committee has called for suggestions. The General Council of the Trades Union Congress has recommended the abolition of the waiting week before benefit is paid, increase of benefit, and extension of the benefit period beyond the present 26 weeks.—British Wireless.

MRS. BARRYMORE DEAD

Hollywood, Dec. 24.

Mrs. Lionel Barrymore, 49, long an invalid, died to-day, following an attack of influenza. Her stage name by which she is best remembered, was Irene Fenwick.—United Press.

Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, now recovered from the mild attack of influenza which has kept them confined to their home at Aldershot during the last few days. The King spent several hours yesterday discussing with his Sandringham estate agent plans for cultivation of the farm, and there and re-arrangements in the gardens.—British Wireless.

GREETING MRS. SIMPSON

Ennsfeld, Dec. 25.
The Duke of Windsor telephonically exchanged greetings with Mrs. Ernest Simpson to-day. He smilingly aided Baroness Rothschild in distributing presents to 25 children of the household and various employees at a Christmas Eve festival in the castle dining room. The Duke's Christmas mail was so heavy that two automobiles were required to carry it to the castle.—United Press.

WEATHER FORECAST

London, Dec. 24.

Apart from local fog, fair weather is forecast for the Christmas celebrations, which will be on a larger scale than any in recent years, judging by the experiences of shopkeepers and others handling Christmas trade and traffic. The Post Office, railways, air lines, shops, theatres and hotels all report record business.

In London yesterday, between 17,000,000 and 18,000,000 letters, 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 more than on the busiest day last Christmas—and 800,000 parcels were handled. The estimate by the Post Office authorities of the number of extra clearances necessarily fell far short of the number actually required. While still more clearances were being hastily arranged, many pillar-boxes had to be sealed up and policemen stationed beside others. Queues of people anxious to post parcels and letters formed outside the branch post offices.

Traffic on the railways has been exceptionally heavy, and to-day's rush of passengers necessitated a great increase in the normal train service. Examples of these are afforded by the fact that two of the great rail systems, the L.M.S. and the L.N.E.R., are running respectively 1,000 and 800 additional trains during the holiday. The Great Western Railway expects that the number of passengers passing through Paddington yesterday and to-day will be over 230,000. The main rush on the Southern railways occurs this evening, and special trains will be leaving London for southern resorts up till midnight.—British Wireless.

Noted Editor Succumbs

New York, Dec. 25.

Mr. Arthur Brisbane, whose daily editorials were read in scores of newspapers throughout the United States by millions of people, has succumbed to a sudden illness.

Probably the most highly paid newspaperman in the world, Mr. Brisbane was for years the first lieutenant of that newspaper genius, Mr. William Randolph Hearst, and his editorials did much to popularise the Hearst publications.—Reuter.

ordinance prohibiting the firing of crackers within the city limits. Reuter's flash message announcing Chiang Kai-shek's release created the greatest excitement in the Chinese quarters and extra editions of the newspapers were rushed out, bearing the glad tidings. Most of those arrested expressed the opinion that it was well worth it.—Reuter.

Chang With Chiang

Nanking, Dec. 26.

It is learned that 'Chang Hsueh-ling has arrived at Loyang with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. This is taken to mean that the rebel leader has received assurance of his personal safety.

However, it is generally considered the Government cannot remain inactive regarding the serious disruptive situation revealed in the northwest and it is felt that the matter must be cleared up without delay.

The Japanese are now expected to press more strongly than ever for a thorough and final drive against the Communists in that section of the country.—Reuter.

during the holiday. The Great Western Railway expects that the number of passengers passing through Paddington yesterday and to-day will be over 230,000. The main rush on the Southern railways occurs this evening, and special trains will be leaving London for southern resorts up till midnight.—British Wireless.
